Toast to the Coast

Egyptian garb was the preferred apparel for 'A Night on the Nile' Friday during Coast Episcopal School's 20th annual Toast to the Coast.

Chefs from restaurants all across the Coast dished out good humor with good food Friday evening for the 20th annual Toast to the Coast. ## Suspect caught in Bay robbery

Hancock man accused in drug store stick-up

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Hancock County resident being held in Harrison County Jail on charges of a September armed robbery of a Orange Grove Drug store, may be the same person wanted on the same charges in Bay St. Louis, Police Chief Frank McNeil reported Thursday afternoon.

"Pharmacists at Bay Pharmacy were approached by an armed robber on May 20, with the subject having a note in his hand and a bag, in addition to a list which he said, 'give me certain narcotics', and he added, 'I want brand names, unopened full bottles'" according to an earlier report by part time pharmacist Joe Thompson.

"Robert Sidney House, 57, 4383 Rocky Hill-Dedeaux Road, Hancock County now being held in Harrison faces armed robbery charges in Bay St. Louis," McNeil said.

"Officers noticed a similarity between the two robberies which involved prescription OxyContin and questioned House. A warrant for his arrest has been secured by Bay Police too."

McNeil said House may be implicated in a Slidell Drug store robbery too.

Thompson reported that during the Bay armed robbery, the suspect had

Bay Library designated national Literary Landmark

THE SEA COAST ECHO

A marker designating the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library as a national Literary Landmark in honor of Stephen E. Ambrose will be unveiled this Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 4 p.m. This site, given by Friends of Libraries USA (FOLUSA), was chosen to reflect Ambrose's years living in the area and using the Bay St. Louis Library to complete research on Nothing Like It In The World: The Men Who Built the Transcontinental Railroad, 1863-1869 and other titles.

Douglas Brinkley, director of the Eisenhower Center for American Studies in New Orleans, and Ambrose family friend, will be the program speaker. Ambrose family and friends will be present for the unveiling. Other organizations sponsoring the designation are the Friends of Mississippi Libraries, the Mississippi Center for the Book, the Mississippi Library Commission, the Library Foundation of Hancock County and the Mississippi Humanities Council.

Friends of Mississippi

The late Dr. Stephen Ambrose.

Libraries have participated in FOLUSA's Literary Landmark project since

1993, when Rowan Oak, William Faulkner's home in Oxford, and Beauvoir, Jefferson Davis' home and presidential library, were included in the registry.

"As an historian, Stephen Ambrose's books relate to the times and actions of the men and women who accomplished many heroic deeds sometimes at the cost of their lives," said Freda Hartness, president of the Friends of Mississippi Libraries. "Mississippians and others from around the world have been impacted by the writings of Stephen Ambrose and will continue to do so in the future. And we are proud to be able to be a part of this national designation for his work living and using the Bay St. Louis library."

The Literary Landmark Association was founded in 1986 by former FOLUSA president Frederick G. Ruffner to encourage the dedication of historic literary sites. The first dedication was at Slip F18 in Bahia Mar, Florida, the anchorage of the Busted Flush, the houseboat home of novelist John D. MacDonald's protagonist Travis McGee. Dedications have included the homes of famous writers (Tennessee Williams, Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings), libraries and museum collections, literary scenes (Willa Cather's Prairie bear Red Cloud, Nebraska), and even "Grip" the Raven, formerly the pet of Charles Dickens and inspiration to Edgar Allan Poe and now presiding (stuffed) at the Rare Books Department of the Free Library of Philadelphia.

"It is a great privilege for the Bay Library to receive this designation," said Prime Plauché, Hancock County Library System director, "especially since it honors Stephen Ambrose. He spent many hours in our library researching his books, and we are pleased that he and the library are being recognized."

The Literary Landmark unveiling is the kickoff event for the Mississippi Library Association's annual conference. The 600 member association of librarians, library trustees, and friends of libraries will meet from October 21 to October 24 at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis. The conference features authors, book signings, workshops and the gala Mississippi Author Awards Banquet. More than 60 exhibits by book dealers, computer companies and other industry related vendors are scheduled for the conference.

Book and information lovers are invited to attend the conference. Visit the library association's website, www.misslib.org to obtain a preliminary schedule, registration and vendor registration forms.

Southern Regional expansion plans changed – again

BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

It may be back to the drawing board with expansion plans at the Southern Regional Wastewater Management District as the district may once again consider a change in direction. Instead of the construction of a temporary package treatment plant at a site in the Stennis Buffer Zone as previously planned, the site could become the home of a permanent treatment plant.

Original plans were to construct a temporary, 100,000 gallons per day, treatment plant that could handle the first phase of Pearlinton's wastewater collection system and, it was thought, Hancock County Water and Sewer District customers in remaining unanswered areas such as Ansley and Heron Bay.

Now that engineers report that funding is available for the first two phases of a three-phase wastewater collection system which will be constructed in Pearlinton, Bruce Newton of Digital Engineering told board members this week that the temporary plant will not be able to handle both phases of the Pearlinton system.

The plant would need to go to the 200,000 gallons-per-day size to handle the added customers, Newton said, making it more efficient in his opinion, he said, to consider going ahead with the permanent plant instead.

Officials will consider this option at a workshop at the Gulf of Mexico Program Office on Tuesday. To build a 1.5 million gallon-per-day plant could take about a year, Newton said. Compton engineer Bob Escher said that collection systems could take a year or more to complete and would likely not get under construction until next summer.

Originally, the temporary plant was slated to be moved to the Kiln area when that area started construction of its wastewater collection systems.

Planners hope that a 100-acre site located at the old truck scales on Hwy. 90 in the Buffer Zone will be available for the plant and a spray irrigation system. The spray irrigation system would keep treated wastewater out of Whites Bayou or other area bayous.

At present, Southern Regional dumps about 3 million gallons of treated wastewater per day in Edward's Bayou. The Port Bienville Industrial Park operated by Hancock County Port and Harbor is expanding its treatment plant to a capacity of 75,000 gallons per day, with plans to expand to 150,000 gallons per day. Treated industrial waste and wastewater from Port Bienville are dumped in the Pearl River.

Journalists' group to host forum for political candidates this Wednesday

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

With election day fast approaching many citizens are wondering how they should cast their votes. Locally, at least, the members of the Hancock County Journalists Association are stepping up to give locals a chance to meet and greet candidates for local elections.

A non-partisan political forum will be held at the American Legion Post 77 in Waveland on Wednesday, Oct. 22 from 7-9 p.m. All candidates in local contested elections have been asked to attend to answer both pre-arranged questions and also questions from the audience.

Candidates for county supervisor, sheriff, school superintendent and justice court judge will answer two questions which they have received in advance. They will each also answer one surprise question and impromptu questions from the audience. Candidates for other offices have also been invited to attend the forum to distribute campaign literature, meet the public and briefly state their platforms.

This is the eighth forum of this type that the Journalist's Association has sponsored in an effort to promote good government and ensure enlightened, educated voters. Other forums have attracted upwards of 250 to 350 attendees.

At press time the association had received no response from District 3 candidate for District 93 candidates for State Representative Rico Lee or Dirk Dedeaux, District 95 candidate for State Representative Linda Johnson, candidates for Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler or Emily Magnon, and Justice Court Judge candidate Ricky Adam.

District 4 candidate for Supervisor Steve Seymour said he will be unable to attend because of prior commitments as did candidate for tax assessor Matt Burke. Only one candidate declined to participate in the seminar, saying he didn't like public forums, candidate for District 1 Supervisor David Yarborough, said Association President Nan Ehrbright.

Participation is voluntary. Participating journalists come from The Sun Herald, The Hancock Reporter, The Hancock Focus, The Sea Coast Echo, WLOX-TV, WBSL Radio and WQRZ Radio, as well as retired media.

Questions sent in advance to candidates are as follows:

Sheriff's candidates:

1. Do you believe current pay scales for the sheriff's department are adequate and if not, what will you do to increase them? Secondly, what are the department's most pressing equipment needs.

2. The county is growing rapidly even in rural areas. How do you propose to ensure that the entire county receives adequate coverage by patrol officers?

Supervisors candidates:

1. Candidates all promise that they won't raise taxes, but if it came right down to it, in order to avoid raising taxes, what three items of service would you look at cutting first and would you be willing to take a salary cut to avoid raising taxes?

2. Supervisors appointment members to several boards and commissions, but when residents complain about those boards, supervisors say they have no control over them. How can supervisors ensure that the most capable, knowledgeable and qualified people are appointed to those boards and commissions?

School superintendent candidates:

1. What specific policies or procedures would you implement to reduce the number of students who drop out of school before completing high school?

2. Accountability in schools has gained traction in recent years in large part due to the Bush administration's "no child left behind" initiative. How do you propose, on a local level, to ensure that teachers are meeting the district's educational needs?

Justice court judge candidates:

1. Tell us how you feel about zero tolerance policies, and explain why.

2. What are your qualifications and life experiences which you feel provide the necessary attributes to sit in judgment of your fellow man?

Candidates will be given one minute to respond to each question. Post 77 will open their concession stand on a cash basis on the night of the forum.

Everything set for Favre roast

Everything seems to be in place for the "Roast the Mayor" scheduled to be held in Bay City Park on Thursday. The one to be roasted is Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre.

Eddie this past summer was inaugurated as president of the Mississippi Municipal League. The only other area mayor to hold such prestigious position was the late Bay Mayor John (Baby Grand) Scafile.

Friends of Mayor Favre are contributing food, beverages, music comedy for the special event to be held from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday evening and the general public is invited.

Among the party organizers are Councilman Tom Farve and Fire Chief Bobby Gavagnie and host of others.

The old City Hall is located at 300 S. Second Street, across from Bay Catholic School.

No this is not a 'black tie & tails' event, I have been told. Dress code is Eddie Favre casual, which means a sport shirt, shorts and tennis shoes, if the weather is hot. I may even wear one of my Hawaiian shirts, weather permitting.

I hope to see you at the mayor's roast.

Saturday was a big day for candidates in Bay St. Louis.

The Annual Democratic Beans and Greens and the Republican Annual Cookout was held.

There is only 16 days left before the November 4's General Election.

The Cookout and Beans and Greens gave voters a chance to meet many of the candidates.

I sure hope there will be a much greater percentage of the qualified electors who will go to the polls and vote on Tuesday, November 4.

The August primary elections had a very poor showing on the voters part.

Over the years, the ones who usually complain the most about elected officials are those who do not take the time to vote.

The majority of candidates work very hard in their campaigns and voter should support this by voting on election day.

We have the opportunity to elect our state and local leaders on November 4 - do your part and vote. Yes, every vote does count.

Righting a Wrong

In American politics we've unfortunately become accustomed to smear campaigns designed to associate candidates or officeholders with negative people and things.

We've most recently seen it in California. We're seeing it in Mississippi, too. I'm familiar with this tactic because I've been on the receiving end several times.

I believe the smear artists reached a new low last year when they tried to create an identity for Judge Charles Pickering that was 180 degrees different from Charles Pickering the man and his distinguished 40-year career in public service. I am glad to report the Senate is a step closer to righting that wrong.

The Senate Judiciary Committee passed Judge Pickering's nomination. Now the judge only lacks a full Senate vote before taking a seat as President Bush's appointee to the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, which serves Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. That vote may occur before the Senate adjourns this fall.

Last year, liberal special-interest groups engineered an initial smear campaign designed to paint Judge Pickering as a racist. Tucked away in their Washington offices at various liberal "nonpartisan" organizations, the "experts" that conceived the smear campaign were probably shocked when they found out Charles Pickering had actually put his life at risk in 1967, testifying against the Ku Klux Klan, and as County Attorney for Jones County he had worked with the FBI to fight racial violence.

When they finally realized the racist charge in no way applied to Judge Pickering, they quickly improvised another ill-researched, last minute tactic. The smear artists changed plans in mid-stream, this time going anti-religious, alleging Judge Pickering's active involvement in the Southern Baptist Church somehow disqualified him from being an appeals court judge.

It was another miscalculation. The liberal interest groups forgot - as they often

Legion to fight for Pledge at Supreme Court

With the Supreme Court announcement that it will decide in 2004 whether it is constitutional for public-school teachers to lead students in the Pledge of Allegiance because of the words "under God," the nation's largest veterans organization pledged its commitment to the legal battle.

The 2.8 million-member American Legion is prepared to fight this at the highest judicial level for the right of public-school teachers and students to voluntarily observe the time-honored tradition.

"The heart of this case is about allowing the Constitution to appropriately reflect the intent of our republic's founders and the values of the American people,"

"The heart of this case is about allowing the Constitution to appropriately reflect the intent of our republic's founders and the values of the American people."

John Brieden,
American Legion
National Commander

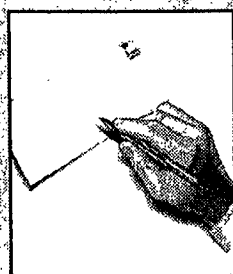

American Legion National Commander John Brieden said. "We believe our nation will be stronger when the courts let our Constitution protect the rights of all the people rather than merely the wrongs of a few people."

The American Legion filed a friend-of-the-court brief in support of the constitutionality of the Pledge of Allegiance at federal court in San Francisco. The American

Our letters policy

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers. Letters must be signed and include address or telephone number. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double-spaced. Only one letter per writer per month. The editor reserves the right to edit or reject letters. Letters of thanks, expressions of appreciation and political endorsements are inappropriate.

Legion is committed to take this fight all the way to the highest court in the land.

Teachers leading students in the Pledge of Allegiance is as constitutional as "In God We Trust" stamped on our nation's currency and references to "God" in the oaths taken in our courts.

"But this case is bigger than the Pledge. What is really at stake here is the moral direction of the nation."

The right of the people to declare their patriotism by voluntarily reciting the Pledge is but one battle. The right of the Boy Scouts of America to select its leaders consistent with its founding principles is another battle.

The night of the people to protect the U.S. Flag from acts of physical desecration is a battle that the American Legion has been fighting since the Supreme Court in 1989 invalidated flag-protection laws in 48 states; a constitutional amendment approved by the House and soon to come to a vote in the Senate is the remedy."

The 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco ruled 2-1 in June 2002 that reciting the Pledge in public schools is unconstitutional.

The court reaffirmed its decision in February, amending the ruling to say that "teacher-led" recitation

Miss. authors honored by state library group

Four Mississippi authors will be honored at the 2003 Mississippi Library Association's (MLA) Mississippi Authors Awards Gala. The event is held during the MLA annual conference, set this year at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis.

The awards are presented in two categories: fiction and non-fiction. Each work is judged on its overall quality, with consideration given to literary merit, style, technique, originality, accuracy, authenticity and illustrations.

This year's award winners are Joe Edd Morris, fiction, for "Land Where My Fathers Died"; Ruth Williams, non-fiction, "Younger Than That Now," Chuck Galey special award for children's illustration, "Jazz Cats"; and Wyatt Waters, special award for art, "Southern Palate."

Joe Edd Morris is a native of New Albany, Miss., (birthplace of William Faulkner). A psychologist and jury consultant, his background also includes over 20 years of active service in the United Methodist pastorate.

He is known for his weekly column, Stress Line, in The Northeast Mississippi Daily Journal and a popular talk show, The Doctor Is In, which was ranked as one of the most successful and longest running talk shows in the country.

Morris' poetry and short fiction have appeared in South Dakota Review, Chattahoochee Review, Concho River Review, Appalachian Heritage, The Delta Review, and The Poet. He is a three-time winner of the William Faulkner Short Story Contest. Land Where My Fathers Died was a semifinalist in the 1998 Pirate's Alley Faulkner

Prizes for Fiction. He currently lives in Tupelo, Mississippi.

Ruth Campbell Williams graduated from Yazoo City High School, Yazoo City, Mississippi. She attended Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia as a National Merit Scholar and received a BFA in 1972 from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. Ruth Williams lives in Flora, Mississippi with her husband Randy. They have owned and operated an advertising agency, Williams & Williams since 1980, and she has just completed her first novel, White Girl.

With co-author Jeff Durstewitz, Ruth Williams wrote Younger Than That Now - A Shared Passage from the Sixties. Williams and Durstewitz wrote their dual memoir with two main purposes in mind.

They wanted to tell the story of their unusual North-South friendship, which began in 1969, and they hoped to give early-career baby boomers (i.e., those who were in high school or college from about 1965 through 1977) a way to open a dialog between their younger selves and the middle-aged adults they've become. People magazine called the book "a small masterpiece," and it has received overwhelmingly positive reviews. Younger Than That Now received the Mississippi Institute of Arts & Letters Nonfiction Award for 2000.

Chuck Galey was born in Greenwood, Mississippi, and graduated with honors from Mississippi State University, majoring in Graphic Design. He has contributed illustrations for magazines, corporations, and advertising clients nationwide. He has won awards in both editorial and advertising categories in various competitions and has illustrated over 30 books for educational publishers around the country. His favorite work to date has been creating covers of Beverly Cleary's Ribsey and Henry Huggins, and for R.L. Stine's Fear Street series for Recorded Books, Inc.

A native Mississippian, watercolorist Wyatt Waters has become well-known for his distinctive use of color and his portrayal of the scenery of the South. Preferring to work on location rather than from photographs, Wyatt became a common sight on the streets of Jackson as he began "working ahead of the wrecking ball as it tore down the city I remembered."

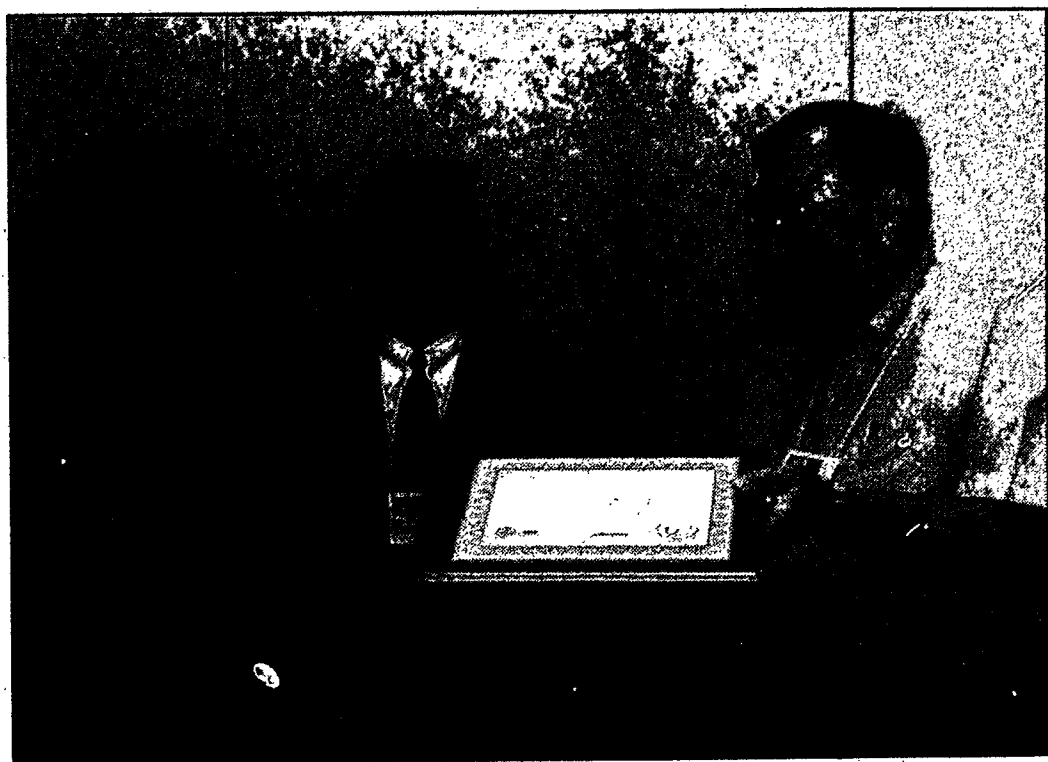

He graduated from Mississippi College with a Bachelors degree in Art where he received the Belleman award for Art and Creative Writing. He obtained his Master's degree in Art from Mississippi College.

Wyatt has published many of his paintings in Another Coat of Paint, Christmas Stores from Mississippi, Painting Home, and in his recent collaboration with Robert St. John, A Southern Palate. His works have been featured in numerous magazine articles including Art and Antiques, American Artist, Watercolor, and Mississippi Magazine. He also writes and performs for the band, WatersEdge.

Book and information lovers are invited to attend the conference. Visit the library association's website www.misslib.org to obtain a preliminary schedule, registration and vendor registration forms. For more information contact Mary Perkins at 467-5282.

do - that most people in America believe in God. Most Americans are neither ashamed of, nor feel threatened by, those who proclaim faith.

Following these grossly unfair and ill-conceived special-interest attack strategies on Judge Pickering's record and his religion, people from throughout the nation rallied in support of Judge Pickering. From Mississippi, people with varied racial, social, professional and religious backgrounds have come forward testifying to the true, outstanding character of Judge Pickering, soundly debunking the manufactured myths which Judge Pickering's politically motivated detractors have desperately tried to sell.

Pastors, civil rights leaders, public officials of both parties - all have spoken of Judge Pickering's fine reputation, cutting off the bogus allegations at their root.

Now Judge Pickering's

harshest opponents have come full circle. They are exposed and left with no reason to oppose Judge Pickering other than their own blatant loyalty to special interests - which is all they really had to start with.

When Judge Pickering comes before the full Senate later this year, I hope Republicans, Democrats and independents will once and for all forget about the discredited, nonsensical, special-interest, smear campaign waged against Judge Charles Pickering. I hope this vote will be decided not on some fabricated false image, but instead on the true Judge Pickering and his merits - specifically his education, his experience and his record as a judge.

If this happens, Judge Charles Pickering will be confirmed. The 5th Circuit will benefit from the services of a fine jurist who will interpret the law as written, just as any good judge should do. Mississippi, too, will benefit because a very unfair wrong against one of our state's most outstanding citizens will be made right.

Senator Lott welcomes any questions or comments about this column. Write to: U.S. Senator Trent Lott, 487 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

tion of the Pledge is unconstitutional. The rulings came after Michael Newdow, an atheist and father of an elementary school girl, filed the case against the United States, Congress, California and two school districts.

Newdow's daughter lives with her mother, who has sole custody of the young girl.

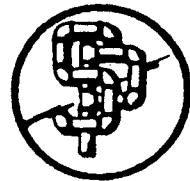

The daughter attends public school in Elk Grove, Calif., near Sacramento and according to reports regularly attends church.

Newdow's complaint alleged that, "his daughter is injured when she is compelled to 'watch and listen as her state employed teacher in her state-run school leads her classmates in a ritual proclaiming that there is a God and that ours is one nation under God.'"

In 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed legislation inserting "under God" after the words one nation.

The American Legion supported the addition. "We have full faith the court will uphold the right of the people as one nation under God," Brieden said.

Diamondhead makes a difference

THE SEA COAST ECHO

On Saturday, Oct. 25, Diamondhead residents will join the millions of people on America's largest day of service — Make A Difference Day.

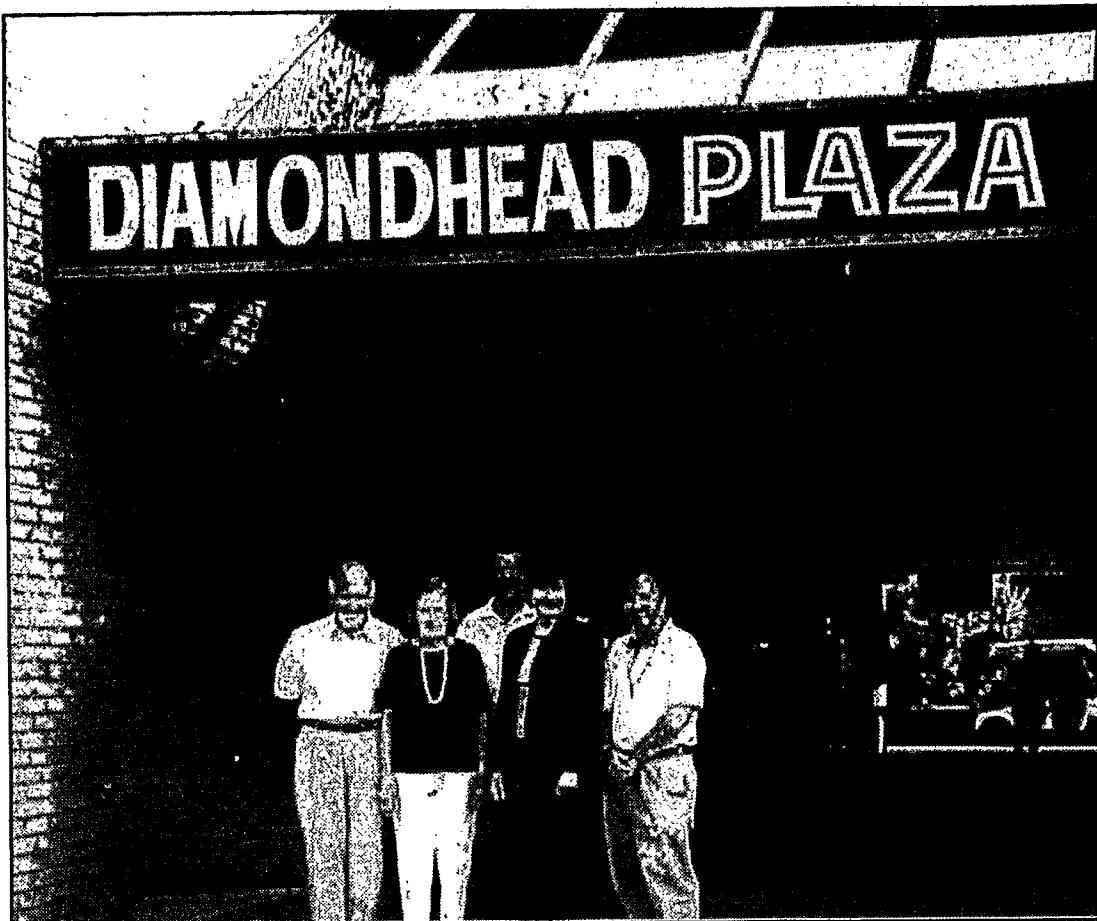

Diamondhead Make a Difference Day features the collection of non-perishable foods for Hancock County Food Pantry, of paper products (cups, plates, napkins, paper towels, etc.) for Hope Haven and of clothing, kitchen items, household items, miscellaneous items for Goodwill.

Two large trucks will be stationed in the Diamondhead Plaza on Oct. 25 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. to collect the donated items. Tax receipts will be available to donors at the plaza.

For those who are not able themselves to bring their donations to the plaza or to have a neighbor bring the donations, arrangements can be made for a limited amount of home pick-ups by volunteers on Oct. 25 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Call Diamondhead Whitney Bank Branch at 228-463-2120 before Saturday to arrange for a home pick-up. Because of limited pick-up capacity, Diamondhead residents are asked to make every effort to get the donations to the plaza themselves.

For donor convenience,

collection boxes for Hope Haven (paper products) and Hancock County Food Pantry (non-perishable food) donations will be located in the Diamondhead Supermarket from Oct. 17 through Oct. 25.

All the citizens of Diamondhead are again this year asked to unite with their neighbors to make the world, and more especially the world of those needy here in Hancock County better. No, the whole world will not be changed by Diamondhead donations on this Make A Difference Day but at least a small part of it will.

"Better to light a single candle than to have a thousand candles," said the saying.

Bay, Waveland, asked to 'tighten' sewer systems

BY BENNIE SHALBETTER
Staff Writer

Hancock County Water and Sewer District are able to process about 25 percent more wastewater customers through the treatment phase at Southern Regional because of the tightness of their collection system, said Gulf of Mexico Program Acting Director Bryon Griffith this week.

If both the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland were able to tighten their collection systems to equal the efficiency of the Water and Sewer District the plant could process up to 5,000 added customers a day, Griffith said, though it would be difficult to achieve that degree of efficiency with the gravity flow systems used by the cities, refurbishing the systems could bring some improvement.

The conclusion is that it would make sense for the county to funnel dollars into tightening already in place collection systems rather than invest in upgrades to the Southern Regional treatment plant, he said. Figures show that about $300,000 in costs each year are associated with excess water in collection systems, said Griffith.

Representatives from the various sewer districts met with Griffith at the Gulf of Mexico Program Office this week to go over the ins and outs of a formula used to determine cost sharing for treatment at the Southern Regional plant in Waveland.

If the formula is used in the right way, it will actually reward the districts with tighter collection systems, he said, depending on the percentage used to calculate disinfection and discharge costs (DDC) and the percent of total flow for each entity.

Waveland city engineer Bruce Newton said that the percentage being used now to calculate DDC, about four percent, is unrealistic and would usually make up a greater percentage of the calculations. Griffith agreed but suggested the districts agree to stick to current figures through the fiscal year and make any needed changes in the formula next year.

Districts also agreed to eliminate two month's figures from the yearly calculations with unusually high or unusually low flow rates.

Robbery

approached Aline LaFontaine, Pharmacist Tech, and he could hear she was rattled in her speech from where I he was.

"I walked over to her and could see this big man standing there and he lifted his shirt and he revealed an automatic weapon in his pants. I handle weapons and knew it was an automatic. I proceeded to collect a bottle of each drug he requested but had forgotten the one and could see him get nervous and I secured a bottle and placed it in the bag along with the other requests," Thompson said following the robbery.

Thompson continued, "The suspect exited the building, I hit 911 and told the clerks we had been robbed and they all shot out the store, but could not see where he went. Police were at the store within 30 seconds and searched the area street-by-street."

Thompson, who has been a pharmacist for 35 years said the strong-arm robbery was the first time for him to face. Following the robbery, Thompson said that Tom Bullock, the pharmacy manager, was notified of the robbery and the incident was reported to the Mississippi State Board of Pharmacy and a complete inventory had to be taken.

At the Bay robbery, everyone was grateful there were no injuries.

McNeil said that Detective Joseph Kepfer is now handling the case.

There are several types of benign breast lumps. Some may be influenced by the menstrual cycle and disappear after menopause. Cysts, fibroadenomas and fat necrosis are just a few of the conditions that can cause breast changes. Most benign breast changes do not increase a woman's risk for getting cancer and even if a biopsy is recommended, 80% are determined to be benign. ## Students aid in World Water Monitoring

Echo staff photos by Shannon Jenkins

As part of the upcoming World Water Monitoring Day, several Hancock High seniors tested the water quality of a creek off Firetower Road on Wednesday. Their results will be entered into an international database. World Water Monitoring Day serves as a global educational platform for watershed leaders, educators and trained volunteers to help those who are less experienced better understand how the actions of individuals in a watershed can impact many others, according to www.worldwatermonitoringday.org. On Saturday, all the water monitoring participants celebrated World Water Monitoring Day. Bryon Griffith, acting director of the Gulf of Mexico Program, worked with Hancock High and Bay High to include students in this program.

MDOT to dedicate highway in honor of Dr. Stephen E. Ambrose

The Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) will dedicate a portion of I-10 in Hancock County to the world renowned historian and best selling author, the late Dr. Stephen E. Ambrose, according to Southern District Transportation Commissioner Wayne Brown.

Ceremonies will be held on October 20, 2003 at 6 p.m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Community Center located at 228 South Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis, Miss. Speakers, will include Representative J. P.

Compretta, who introduced legislation in the 2003 legislative session to name the highway in honor of Dr. Ambrose; Ron Drez, family friend and colleague; Leo Seal, Jr., family friend and Chairman of the Board of Hancock Bank; Commissioner Wayne Brown and U. S. Congressman Gene Taylor.

"I am an avid student of World War II history. Stephen Ambrose was a great historian who had an immeasurable impact on our society, causing Americans to appreciate the great sacrifice of our World War II generation. Because of his hard work and dedication, he is well deserving of a section of I-10 being named in his honor," Brown said.

Dr. Ambrose, a long-time resident of Bay St. Louis who died in 2002 at age 66 of lung cancer, will always be remembered for his love of history. He translated his passion for history in over 20 historical books and biographies including best selling books such as Eisenhower the President, D-Day, and Citizen Soldier. This same passion was also evident in his role as a consultant for award winning films such as "Saving Private Ryan," Steven Spielberg's epic World War II movie, and as a producer of the HBO miniseries "Band of Brothers".

Other honors Dr. Ambrose received for his writing and civic contributions were the Medal for Distinguished Public Service, the George Marshall Award, the Department of the Army Award for Distinguished Public Service, the Teddy Roosevelt Award. The Abraham Lincoln Literary Award, the Will Rogers Memorial Award, the Bob Hope Award from the Congressional Medal of Honor Society and the National Humanities Award.

Hawks take Bulldogs to the kennel with 26-6 whipping

BY DWAYNE BREMER
Contributing Writer

The Hancock Hawks got back into the win column Friday night in Natchez, as they put forth their best effort of the season with a 26-6 victory over the Natchez Bulldogs.

The Hawks (4-4), were led by Senior Myron Fairley who tailed 156 yards on 21 carries, and scored two touchdowns. Fairley, who has been a wide receiver all season, was moved to running back this week, and he did not disappoint.

"I wanted to do it, I ran the ball a few years ago, and I was excited to get the chance. Mt line blocked well, and Jarrod Barrios did a great job at fullback," Fairley said.

"It was a good win for us to get back on track, we ran the ball a lot more, and I think we were more comfortable tonight," said Hawks head coach Rocky Gaudin.

The Hawks jumped on the Bulldogs right away, as they rolled up 17 first quarter points.

On the opening drive the Hawks took over at the eight plays for their first score. Fairley had first down runs of ten and nine yards. David Brown scooted on a reverse for 16-yards and a first down to the Bulldog 34, and on the next play Brown hauled in a 19-yard pass from Robert Domke to give the Hawks a first down at the 15.

Fairley scored three plays later on a two yard run. Justin Ratcliff added the point after, and with 8:41 to play in the first the Hawks led 7-0.

The Hawks defense stuffed the Bulldogs first drive, as Donald Hains and Daniel Spiers stopped runs for no gain. On fourth down, the Bulldogs punted, but the punter dropped the ball, and Charles Bolden sacked him at the 15.

The Hawks took advantage quickly, as Fairley ran for nine yards, and then Jarrod Barrios rumbled in for a six-yard touchdown run. Ratcliff's extra point made the score 14-0 with 6:57 to play in the quarter.

The Hawks defense stopped the Bulldogs again, and after a 15-yard punt the Hawks set up shop again in Bulldog territory at the 40.

The Hawks drove in the red zone again, thanks to a 23-yard completion from Domke to Brown.

The drive stalled, and Ratcliff came on to boot a 25-yard field goal. The kick bounced in off the left upright, and the Hawks had everything going their way 17-0, with 2:17 to play in the first.

The Hawks could not stretch their lead in the second due to an interception, and a missed field goal. The Hawks defense remained tough, however, as E. J. Owens caused a fumbled that Wesley Oliver recovered, and Eddie Bledsoe had an interception for the Hawks.

With time running low in the half, the Bulldogs took over at the 45.

Jason Haynes found Kendrick Gibbons for a 26-yard reception, and three plays later Haynes and Gibbons hooked up for a 25-yard touchdown strike. The extra point was no good, but the Bulldogs were on the board 17-6 with 1:31 to play in the half.

The scored remained the same going to half, and the Bulldogs would receive the second half kickoff.

The Bulldogs took over at their 47 thanks to a nice return by John Miller. The Bulldogs picked up a first down, and three plays later they were faced with a fourth and two at the Hawks 34. Miller got the carry, but Barrios and Braxton Necaice stopped him for no gain, and the Hawks took over on downs.

The Hawks then took control with an eleven play drive that covered 67 yards. Fairley started things out with an eleven yard run. Barrios then blasted out nine more barrios and Fairley then ran for back to back 12-yard runs, and the Hawks had a first down at the 23.

After a run by Brown for seven yards, Domke hit Fairley on a nine yard touchdown pass. The extra point was no good, but the Hawks led 23-6 with 4:08 to play in the third.

The Hawks defense shut down the Bulldogs next three drives, not allowing a first down. The defensive line of Matt Rayborn, Donald Hains, Tyler Ball, and Gerald Adams known as "The Wrecking Crew," shut down the Bulldog game, as they only allowed one yard rushing on those three drives, and only 26 yards rushing for the whole game.

The Bulldogs were forced to punt from their 11 with 7:07 to play in the game. Brown took in the punt at the 409, and after an 11-yard return the Hawks had the ball at the Bulldog 29.

The Hawks picked up a first down behind the running of Fairley and Barrios, and when the drive stalled, Ratcliff booted a 28-yard field goal to make the score 26-6 with 4:56 to play.

The kick was the first time a Hawks kicker has kicked two field goals in a game since Chase Sackett did it in 1999.

The Bulldogs would had two more possessions, but the Hawks defense was too tough to move the ball on, and the game ended 26-6.

The Hawks defense was led by several great performances. Ball had seven tackles and a sack, Jonathan Lacoste had 12 tackles and two sacks. Barrios and Hains had six tackles, and Wesley Oliver had five tackles and a fumbled recovery.

"I think we changed our season around, hopefully we can build on this game," Barrios said.

The Hawks had 246 yard rushing for the game, as they went back to their Wind T offense from years ago.

"We are still going to throw the ball. I just think that we needed to find an identity," Gaudin said.

Next week the Hawks will play host to their rival the Picayune Maroon Tide. Get to "The Nest" early because it promises to be an action packed affair. Last year the Hawks beat the Tide 13-12.

Pirates pull Hornets' sting with 19-13 win

BY STEVE SMITH
Contributing Writer

The Pass High Pirates took another step toward their playoff goal with a 19-13 overtime win over the East Central Hornets at H.D Shirley Field in Hurley Friday night, to the great joy of the many Pirate fans who made the trip and braved the first really cool weather of the fall.

"Our defense stepped up and won the game tonight," commented Coach Bo Vonderbrugge. "I issued a challenge to the defense at halftime, and they responded," he added.

The response was a scoreless second half for the home-standing Hornets and a gamebreaking 73 yard touchdown run by Chad Musgrove after recovering a Hornet fumble. With the Hornets leading 13 to 6 and threatening to score. Musgrove snatched the loose ball in mid-air and burst through the throng, outpacing the Hornet pursuit, evening the score and giving the Pirates overwhelming momentum.

Pass High managed only six points in the first half, scoring on a three yard run by Anthony Henderson with 2:00 minutes left in the first quarter, while their defense gave up two touchdowns, both of which came on passes from Adam McQueen to Damatio Wells. Interestingly, the Hornets took a point off the scoreboard, something coaches rarely do. After the second touchdown, the Hornets successfully converted the point after by kicking, but a Pirate penalty gave East Central the option to play the down again from the one yard-line. They attempted a two point conversion and were stopped cold by the Pirate defense. What was an eight point lead was cut to seven, setting the tone for Vonderbrugge's halftime challenge.

The Pirates shut the Hornets out in the second half and tied the game with a defensive touchdown, then held off a late challenge by the Hornets, with Fredrick Wiley sacking McQueen. Regulation time expired with the score tied and the Pirates won the coin toss and took first possession at the ten yard-line nearest the west end-zone.

The Pirates scored in overtime on a halfback pass from Anthony Henderson to Fredrick Wiley and the defense stopped the Hornets on four tries to win 19 to 13.

"My team needs me," Wiley said when asked what he was thinking as he was alone in the endzone waiting for Henderson's pass.

There were many heroes. Ledael Johnson was everywhere, stuffing the run on defense. Anthony Henderson ran for 90 yards from scrimmage, played superb defense and made a thrilling open-field tackle on the kick-off to punctuate Musgrove's 73 yard fumble return. Jeffrey Hillard ran for 40 yards and Musgrove added 43. Jared Bowser, Jake Miladinich, Justin Furby all played with intensity in what was a total team effort.

The Pirates face Vancleave next Friday and a win will assure a playoff spot for Pass High.

Lady 'Cats repeat as division champs

Pearl River Community College's Lady Wildcats repeated as MACJC South Division champions here Friday with a 2-1 victory over Meridian.

In men's action, the Wildcats fought off a second-half rally by the Eagles to take a hard-fought 5-4 victory to ice a post-season tournament berth and hand Meridian its first loss of the season. PRCC's men can cop a first-ever men's division title Wednesday with a victory over Copiah-Lincoln in Poplarville.

The Lady Wildcats improved to 14-3 overall and 6-0 in division play with their Co-Lin match up remaining, while the Wildcats are now 14-2-1 and 7-1-1. Meridian's women dropped to 7-10 and 3-4, while its men dropped to 13-1-3 and 6-1-1.

In women's action, Carlie Duke of Picayune High put PRCC up 1-0 with a goal at

SSC celebrates 19-14 homecoming win over Bay High

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws and the Bay High Tigers hooked up for the 37th time in their history on Friday, October 17, 'in between the walls' at the Brother Phillip Memorial Athletic Complex. However, this time around, the game had a special ambiance surrounding the event. This year the Rocks are celebrating their sesquicentennial - 150 years of continuous education on the Gulf Coast.

The Rocks defeated the Tigers 19-14 in one of the hardest hitting games seen in these parts in many years. The win gave the Rocks a 20-17 lead in the series. The stadium was filled to capacity on both sides for this rivalry game. SSC started the day with an alumni golf tournament held at The Oaks in Pass Christian for their alumni. Following the golf action was Homecoming parade through the streets of Bay St. Louis to the stadium. It was the first time in 20 years that the school has held a parade.

The parade ended at the field where the "Relative Unknowns" entertained the crowd from 5:30pm to kickoff at the Sesqui Tailgate Party. Finally, the alumni football players were asked to make a tunnel for the team to run through to start the game. Then, the real action started.

The first quarter ended in a 0-0 tie highlighted by a Zack Elkins interception of Bay High quarterback Zack Ferry. As the second quarter began, the Rocks started to find their groove with Matt Hoda smashing the ball up the middle. Hoda finished the game with 136 yards on 29 carries and two scores.

Hoda and Lee Klein toted the mail on offense for SSC while PK Keyes, Jovon Williams, Willie Lock, and Brad Ladner making big stops for the Tigers.

With 8:35 left before halftime, Lee Klein got outside on the Tiger defense and sprinted 50 yards for the score. Michael Kivlan connected on the PAT to make the score 7-0.

Bay High got some life just before halftime when the football was stripped loose from a Rock runner and recovered by Teddy Morris at the Rock 44 yardline.

The Rock defense stepped up and was led by Michael Cure who punished the Tiger receivers across the middle all game. Cure, Klein, Jordan Ellis, Travis Morris, JC Brignone, and Spencer Ziegler kept the Tigers at bay the remainder of the half.

Rachel Cranford, a senior at OLA and the daughter of Eddie and Julie Cranford, was crowned the 2003 Homecoming Queen during halftime festivities.

The Rocks got the ball to open the second half but were forced to punt. Kivlan boomed a 55-yard kick that was downed at the Tiger 1 yardline by Cure.

Cure and company held firm following a SSC penalty that gave the Tigers a first down at their own 17 yardline. However, Cure delivered hit after hit on the Tiger wideouts to force a punt situation for Bay High.

The favor was returned on the Rocks ensuing possession by Keyes, Ferry, Jimmy Blount and others who held SSC to a 48-yard field goal attempt that missed wide left leaving the score at 7-0.

An offensive pass interference flag was thrown on the Tigers to halt their drive following the punt. The Rocks started with a short field after a Bay High punt. SSC quarterback Tim Kulikowski connected with Stefan Sofianos for a 6-yard gain. The Rocks gave the ball to Hoda three straight times for gains of 2, 20, and 12 yards.

The final run was a touchdown for the Rocks with 2:29 left in the third quarter. Kivlan missed wide left on the PAT leaving the score at 13-0.

It took Bay High two plays to get back into the ballgame following the Rock score. Antonio Hawkins broke free for a 67-yard kickoff return to the SSC 29 yardline. Ferry found his favorite receiver, Lorenzo Lewis, for a 29-yard scoring pass. Kyle Moran connected on the PAT making the score 13-7 with 2:06 left in the third.

The Rocks fumbled the ball away to the Tigers on their next possession giving new life to Bay High. However, the Tigers were not able to get it done on offense and had to punt the ball away.

SSC mounted their most impressive drive of the game on the ensuing possession. The Rocks put together a 15-play drive that mixed the pass and the run. The Rocks' offensive line of Caleb McQueen, Herman Johnson, Kace Mitchell, Bob Bass, JC Brignone, Nick Weinmann, and others opened gaping holes on the drive.

Hoda carried the ball 9 times for 28 yards while Klein toted the mail three times for 9 yards. Kulikowski mixed in a 10-yard gain to Dedeaux followed by a 32-yard pass to Cure and a 13-yard throw to Brock Kelly. The drive ended with Hoda pounding his way into the endzone from one-yard out with 2:47 left in the game. The two-point conversion for SSC failed leaving the score 19-7.

The Tigers took over at their own 34 yardline following the kickoff. Bay High tallied four first downs on the drive with three coming off SSC penalties. Ferry had a net of 0-yards on two carries and 12-yard pass-catch combo with Lewis before the Tigers scored. Ferry hooked up with Jovon Williams for a 13-yard score with :51 left to play. Moran converted on the PAT to make the score 19-14.

The onside kick attempt failed leaving SSC to run the clock out for the win.

Bay High head coach Glenn Williams stated, "In the first half, SSC did a good job of shutting the pass down. We came back in the second half and moved the ball better. However, it came down to us not getting a stop on SSC when we needed to. We expected a big running game from them but we just could not get the stop when we needed to. In the second half, we had some big plays set up if we just catch the football. We knew SSC would be fired up for this game and to come out hitting hard. We have East Central coming to our stadium next week. We have to get back to work this week for another division opponent."

The potent Bay High passing attack was limited to just 62 yards and the Tigers' total offensive output was only 111 yards in the game. The Rocks ran up 217 yards rushing on the Tigers who are definitely missing Michael Gros up the middle.

Klein finished the game for the Rocks with 9 carries for 80 yards. Defensively, SSC was led by Cure with 5 tackles and 7 pass breakups. The Tigers were led by PK Keyes with 8 tackles followed by Jovon Williams with 6 total hits.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann commented,

"This is a big rivalry game for both teams. Bay High has a tremendous team and they showed that tonight. The Tigers fought extremely hard. The emotion was very high on both teams tonight and it showed. Our guys had tremendous pressure on them tonight with this being homecoming, part of the 150th celebration of SSC, and a lot of alumni coming back to school. Defensively, we played our best game of the year. Our players stepped up to the challenge that was before them tonight."

The Rocks ended the homecoming celebration with an enormous fireworks display that was set off in conjunction with the sesquicentennial celebration.

Next week the Bay High Tigers will entertain the East Central Hornets at Joe D. McCullough Stadium. The Rocks will host the division-leading Gautier Gators 'in between the walls' at the Brother Phillip Memorial Athletic Complex. Both games are set to kickoff at 7:30pm.

Tigers start slow and fall short

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

Contributing Writer

The Bay High Tigers couldn't overcome a first half drought in their 19-14 loss at cross-town rival St. Stanislaus on the road Friday night. The Tigers' offensive tank appeared to be on empty in the first half of the Rock-a-Chaws' homecoming as the home team's offense pounded the Tigers for steady yardage, picking up first downs and controlling the clock and tempo.

The Tigers put together two scoring drives in the second half, the first with about two minutes to go in the third quarter and the last with 55 seconds remaining in the game. But it was all too little too late as the on-sides-kick attempt after their final score failed and the Tigers' offense wouldn't get a chance to put up another score.

Kyle Moran's onside kick attempt sailed out of bounds, and the Rock-a-Chaws ran three plays to run off the remaining ticks of the clock to secure their homecoming win and keeping their playoff hopes alive.

"We just kicked it too hard," said a disappointed Tigers coach Glenn Williams. "We were trying to jam it at one of the front linemen and didn't kick high enough on the ball. Instead we kicked down too low on it and it sailed."

The Tigers' highly touted passing game struggled and didn't produce a completion on their first two possessions of the game. In fact they didn't even pick up a single first down on their first two possessions.

On their third possession, the Tigers managed their initial first down on a quarterback option pitch from Zack Ferry to Kyle Moran. The play was good for a 19-yard gain and the Tigers had good field position at their own 40 yardline. Two plays later, Ferry connected with Antonio Hawkins for his first completion for a 10-yard gain.

After a scoreless first period, St. Stanislaus got on the scoreboard first on a 50-yard run at the 8:35 mark of the second quarter. As in their two prior losses, the Tigers found themselves in the awkward position of playing from behind.

The Tigers got a break in the closing minutes of the first half with a recovery of a St. Stanislaus fumble at the Rocks' 43 yardline. But again, the Tigers' offense pattered with a single-yard gain on three plays, including two incomplete passes, punting to the Rocks on fourth-and-9 for a first.

The Rocks had a first down at their own 13 yardline and Tigers defense stepped up. P.K. Keyes made a tackle behind the line of scrimmage on first down, stopping the same end-around play that had earlier resulted in a touchdown. On second down Keyes made a solo tackle just behind the line of scrimmage.

The Rock-a-Chaws 7-0 lead held up at halftime and the home team built added to their lead on a 7-yard touchdown run with 2:29 remaining in the third quarter. The PAT kick attempt failed, and the Rocks led 13-0.

The Tigers got going on the ensuing kickoff as Hawkins fielded the kickoff near his own 5 yardline, Moran. The play was good for a 67-yard return to the visitors 29 yardline. On the first play from scrimmage, Ferry hit Lewis for a short screen on the opposite side of the field, and he beat defenders to the outside and outraced Rock-a-Chaw defenders for the score. Moran's successful PAT kick put the Tigers within 6 points of the Rocks at 13-7.

The Tigers attempted an onside kick on the ensuing kickoff, but one of the Tigers made contact with the ball before it went 10 yards, so the Rock-a-Chaws had great field position at the Tigers' 44 yardline.

At that point the Rocks took over the game, holding the Tigers to four plays early in the fourth quarter and sustaining a 24-play, 96-yard drive that consumed over 8 minutes of game clock and resulting in a score to put the game out of reach for the Tigers. The Rock-a-chaws 2-point conversion attempt failed, but the home team led 19-7 with 2:47 remaining on the game clock.

The Tigers started their ensuing possession at their own 35 yardline following Hawkins' 15-yard kickoff return. The Rock-a-chaws forced a third down-and-20 situation. Ferry threw incomplete to Lewis, but a roughing the passer penalty gave the Tigers an automatic first down at the Tigers' 40 yardline. Ferry completed a 12 yard pass play to Lewis and a personal foul call against St. Stanislaus moved the ball to the Rock-a-chaws 38 yardline. Ferry complete another 12-yard pass, this time to Hawkins and another personal foul penalty against St.

Stanislaus gave the Tigers excellent field position at the 13 yardline of St. Stanislaus.

Ferry completed his third consecutive pass to Javon Williams near the 5 yardline, and he carried Rock-a-chaw defenders into the endzone for the score and the Tigers' final possession of the game with 55 seconds remaining.

On the night, the Tigers' offense produced 113 yards of total offense, their lowest offensive output this season. Ferry completed seven of 21 passes for 82 yards and two touchdowns. Lewis recorded three possessions for 50 yards and a score. Williams made 2 receptions for 15 yards and a score. Hawkins had the other two receptions for 17 yards.

"They came in and played us basically like Gautier played us, jamming us at the line," Williams explained. "They did a good job."

"We didn't do anything different in the second half that we didn't do in the first half," Williams added. "But we caught the ball and made a few plays in the second half."

"I still think we've got a shot of making the playoffs. Obviously if we win the next two weeks and go 4-2, we make the playoffs."

The Tigers have two games remaining, both district games. Next Friday the Tigers host East Central at McCullough Stadium and close out the season the following week at Vancleave.

In the men's game, PRCC led 4-0 at the intermission, but Meridian battled back to outscore the Wildcats 4-1 in the second half. ## Reduce Breast Cancer Risk

October is breast cancer awareness month. Breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer among women other than skin cancer, and it is the second leading cause of cancer death in women after lung cancer.

The American Cancer Society estimates that 211,300 women and 1,300 men will be diagnosed with new cases of breast cancer in the United States this year; 39,800 women and 400 men will die from the disease.

I. Benjamin Paz, MD, director of the Breast Center at COH's Rita Cooper Finkel & J. William Finkel Women's Health Center and vice-chair of the Division of Surgery at City of Hope Cancer Center in Los Angeles, emphasizes that taking prevention measures reduces the risk of breast cancer and screening and early detection improve treatment outcomes for those who are diagnosed with the disease.

"The exact cause of breast cancer is unknown but the risk of its development is associated with age, family history, hormonal replacement, race and a number of other risk factors," says Dr. Paz. "Some of these risk factors are not controllable, but others can be avoided by making good lifestyle choices."

The chance of getting breast cancer increases as a woman gets older. Some studies have shown that taking birth control pills slightly increases the risk of breast cancer and that breast feeding may decrease the chance of developing the disease. Additional risk factors include:

- personal or family history (maternal or paternal) of breast cancer
- hormone replacement therapy
- smoking, especially as a teenager or young adult
- a breast biopsy showing benign breast proliferation

Dr. Paz recommends that all women over the age of 40 visit their physician for a yearly screening mammogram and clinical breast examination (CBE). Women in their 20s and 30s should have a CBE preferably every three years.

They should conduct monthly breast self-examinations starting in their 20s. Women with a family history of breast or ovarian cancer or with benign breast changes that predispose cancer should be evaluated for other prevention strategies. For example, Tamoxifen can reduce the incidence of breast cancer in 50 percent of high risk women.

Symptoms may include some of the following:

- a new lump or mass in the breast or underarm

Sandra Zitterkopf discovered she had breast cancer in July 2003.

Sandra Zitterkopf was a single mother for 11 years before she met her new husband, Mark. She and her daughters developed a strong relationship during those years together. "My daughters and I have always been really close, closer than most mothers and daughters," Sandra said. "Even through their teen years we had our moments, but there was never any question that I wouldn't be there to love and support them, and no question whatsoever that if I needed them or they needed me, we would be there for each other."

Sandra probably never expected how much she would later depend on this bond with her children. She would also draw strength and support from Mark, who she began dating five years ago and married last April.

A year before their marriage, Sandra began a series of hospital visits and surgeries to remove several cysts within her body and a tumor from her uterus. Mark, himself, had back surgery. Through it all, they supported one another.

"(Mark) has been the rock in my foundation throughout our relationship, never wavering, never complaining," Sandra said. "It has really been wonderful to have someone to lean on for a change, instead of having to do it without a husband."

Three months after their first anniversary, Sandra received news that rocked her family, who had already been through plenty of tough times.

On July 24, 2003, Sandra visited her doctor for a regular annual checkup; everything appeared normal.

Four days later, she pulled her seat belt across her chest and felt a painful lump in her left breast. She returned to her doctor for a mammogram. The doctor

Our new reading room

Stella and I had just come back from Biloxi and I had settled down in the kitchen recliner to watch her start supper when I remembered. The Arts group are meeting at the Waveland Library at 4:00. It was 4:15. I jumped up, grabbed my car keys and told Stella I was leaving.

As I drove down the beach road to the library, I realized that I would be missing a good supper. Stella had started early because she also had a meeting and wanted to leave early. There would be a cold plate waiting for me when I got back. We were to have pork chops. Now it would be cold pork chops. Good, but not the same.

When I arrived at the library, I looked around puzzled. The building's facade had changed considerably since the last time I was there, but that was not what bothered me. There were cars in the lot, but not enough to indicate a meeting was taking place. When I went inside, it was obvious that the only people in the library were people wanting books.

"May I help you?" The librarian behind the counter was looking at me.

"I thought there was to be a meeting of The Arts group here."

"There is to be a meeting in the room down the hall, but it's scheduled for 6:00."

"Oh!" I stood there looking out into the broad, bright interior of the main reading room. This was my first visit to the newly renovated library and I was amazed at the tremendous changes that had taken place. My amazement must have shown on my face.

"That's only an hour and a half away. Why don't you go in, sit down and read one of our books?"

I turned and looked at her. I'm afraid that my surprise at the changes was still on my face. My mouth was open.

"Look around," she laughed. "Pick out any book. Try it." She twisted the book in front of her around for me to see. "See, it's easy and a lot of

All my life, I have loved books and have read them and read them; some twice, many more than twice. When I was young, my family couldn't afford to buy books for me to read and the local public library was to me a wonderful treasure. It was only a quarter mile from where I lived and once a week after school I would walk there and spend hours reading and finally taking several books home with me.

Tigers start slow and fall short

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

Contributing Writer

The Bay High Tigers couldn't overcome a first half drought in their 19-14 loss at cross-town rival St. Stanislaus on the road Friday night. The Tigers' offensive tank appeared to be on empty in the first half of the Rock-a-Chaws' homecoming as the home team's offense pounded the Tigers for steady yardage, picking up first downs and controlling the clock and tempo.

The Tigers put together two scoring drives in the second half, the first with about two minutes to go in the third quarter and the last with 55 seconds remaining in the game. But it was all too little too late as the on-sides-kick attempt after their final score failed and the Tigers' offense wouldn't get a chance to put up another score.

Kyle Moran's onside kick attempt sailed out of bounds, and the Rock-a-Chaws ran three plays to run off the remaining ticks of the clock to secure their homecoming win and keeping their playoff hopes alive.

"We just kicked it too hard," said a disappointed Tigers coach Glenn Williams. "We were trying to jam it at one of the front linemen and didn't kick high enough on the ball. Instead we kicked down too low on it and it sailed."

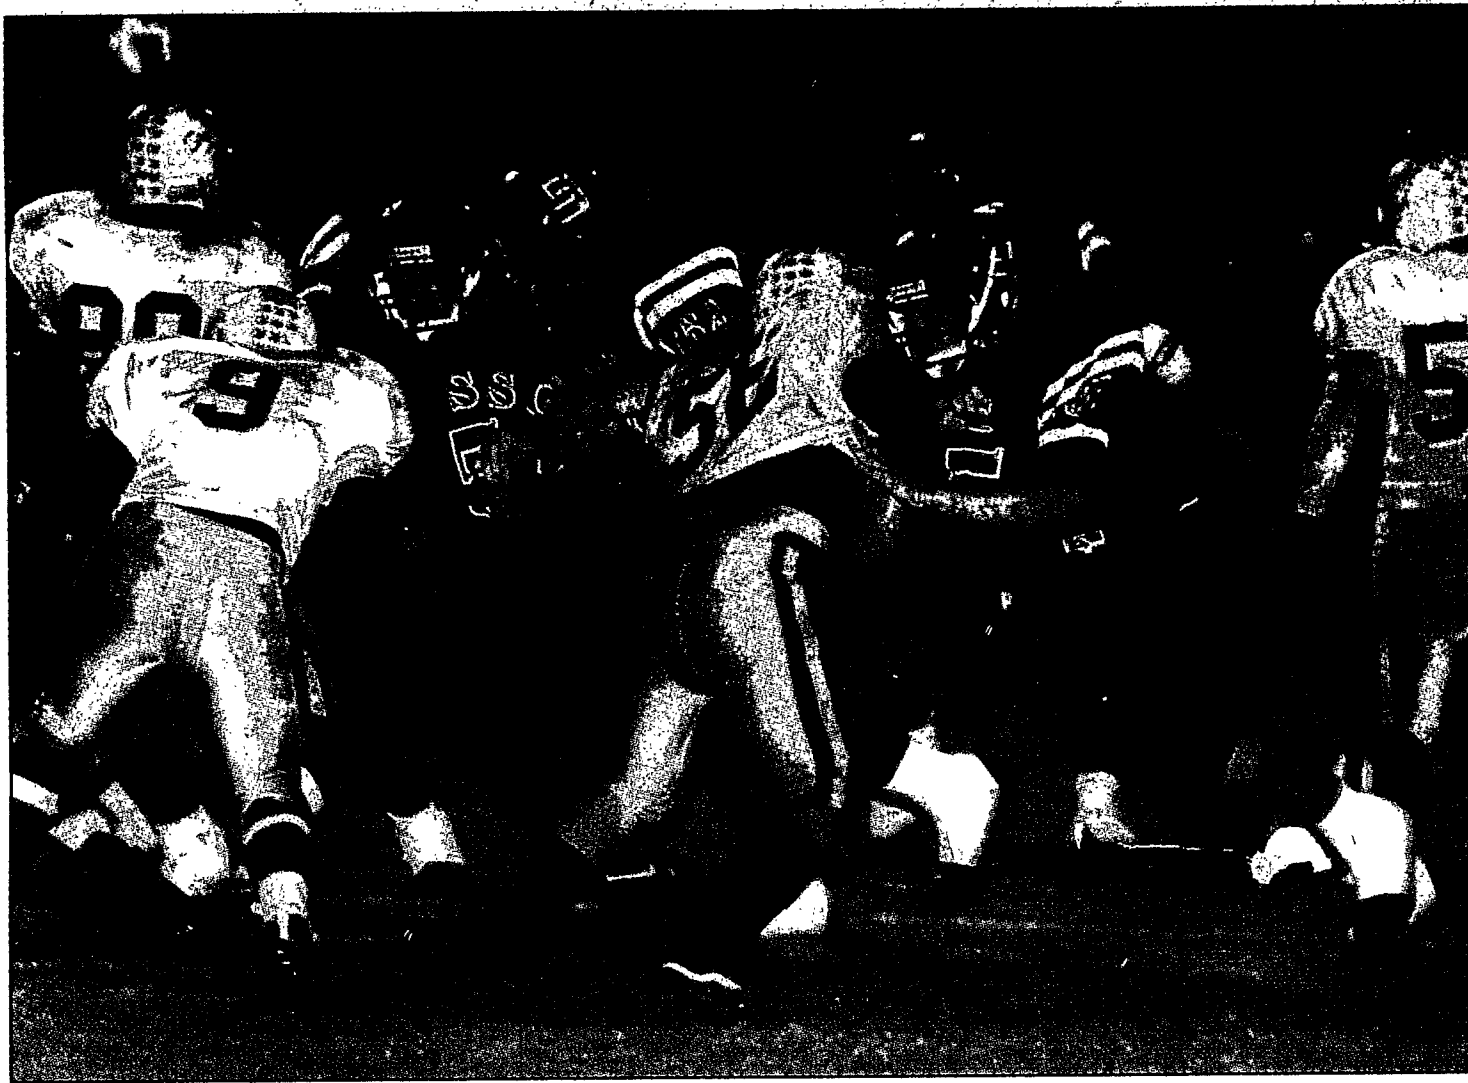

The Tigers' highly touted passing game struggled and didn't produce a completion on their first two possessions of the game. In fact they didn't even pick up a single first down on their first two possessions.

On their third possession, the Tigers managed their initial first down on a quarterback option pitch from Zack Ferry to Kyle Moran. The play was good for a 19-yard gain and the Tigers had good field position at their own 40 yardline. Two plays later, Ferry connected with Antonio Hawkins for his first completion for a 10-yard gain.

After a scoreless first period, St. Stanislaus got on the scoreboard first on a 50-yard run at the 8:35 mark of the second quarter. As in their two prior losses, the Tigers found themselves in the awkward position of playing from behind.

The Tigers got a break in the closing minutes of the first half with a recovery of a St. Stanislaus fumble at the Rocks 43 yardline. But again, the Tigers' offense pattered with a single-yard gain on three plays, including two incomplete passes, punting to the Rocks on fourth-and-9 for a first.

The Rocks had a first down at their own 13 yardline and Tigers defense stepped up. P.K. Keyes made a tackle behind the line of scrimmage on first down, stopping the same end-around play that had earlier resulted in a touchdown. On second down Keyes made a solo tackle just behind the line of scrimmage.

The Rock-a-Chaws 7-0 lead held up at halftime and the home team built added to their lead on a 7-yard touchdown run with 2:29 remaining in the third quarter. The PAT kick attempt failed, and the Rocks led 13-0.

The Tigers got going on the ensuing kickoff as Hawkins fielded the kickoff near his own 5 yardline, attacked the blocking near the center of the field and then broke back to the sideline for a 67-yard return to the visitors 29 yardline. On the first play from scrimmage, Ferry hit Lewis for a short screen on the opposite side of the field, and he beat defenders to the outside and outraced Rock-a-Chaw defenders for the score. Moran's successful PAT kick put the Tigers within 6 points of the Rocks at 13-7.

The Tigers attempted an onside kick on the ensuing kickoff, but one of the Tigers made contact with the ball before it went 10 yards, so the Rock-a-Chaws had great field position at the Tigers' 44 yardline.

At that point the Rocks took over the game, holding the Tigers to four plays early in the fourth quarter and sustaining a 24-play, 96-yard drive that consumed over 8 minutes of game clock and resulting in a score to put the game out of reach for the Tigers. The Rock-a-chaws 2-point conversion attempt failed, but the home team led 19-7 with 2:47 remaining on the game clock.

The Tigers started their ensuing possession at their own 35 yardline following Hawkins' 15-yard kickoff return. The Rock-a-chaws forced a third down-and-20 situation. Ferry threw incomplete to Lewis, but a roughing the passer penalty gave the Tigers an automatic first down at the Tigers' 40 yardline. Ferry completed a 12 yard pass play to Lewis and a personal foul call against St. Stanislaus moved the ball to the Rock-a-chaws 38 yardline. Ferry complete another 12-yard pass, this time to Hawkins and another personal foul penalty against St.

Stanislaus gave the Tigers excellent field position at the 13 yardline of St. Stanislaus.

Ferry completed his third consecutive pass to Javon Williams near the 5 yardline, and he carried Rock-a-chaw defenders into the endzone for the score and the Tigers final possession of the game with 55 seconds remaining.

On the night, the Tigers' offense produced 113 yards of total offense, their lowest offensive output this season. Ferry completed seven of 21 passes for 82 yards and two touchdowns. Lewis recorded three possessions for 50 yards and a score. Williams made 2 receptions for 15 yards and a score. Hawkins had the other two receptions for 17 yards.

"They came in and played us basically like Gautier played us, jamming us at the line," Williams explained. "They did a good job."

"We didn't do anything different in the second half that we didn't do in the first half," Williams added. "But we caught the ball and made a few plays in the second half."

"I still think we've got a shot of making the playoffs. Obviously if we win the next two weeks and go 4-2, we make the playoffs."

The Tigers have two games remaining, both district games. Next Friday the Tigers host East Central at McCullough Stadium and close out the season the following week at Vancleave.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The students of St. Paul Catholic School celebrated a Mass for St. Vincent de Paul on Friday, September 26, 2003. Each Student brought in can goods and gift cards that were given to the St. Paul's chapter of St. Vincent de Paul Society and Our Mother Mercy's St. Peter Claver Society. These two organizations make sure that those in need in Pass Christian area are taken care of. Throughout the week students reflected on the corporal works of Mercy to feed the poor. During Mass, Fr. Joseph Tran reminded students that like Jesus and the apostles we must tend the sheep.

St. Paul Sixth grade students and their Kindergarten partners join Fr Tran in celebrating school mass.

Cancer -- a family battle

said the lump was suspicious and showed a possibility of being malignant, but Sandra assumed the lump would be like all the rest she had before.

"I didn't worry about it," the 42-year-old said. "The other lumps had all been benign."

A few days later, however, she began to worry. The lump hurt differently than the others had.

On Aug. 4, Sandra underwent a previously scheduled lumpectomy and gallbladder surgery. While in recovery, her gynecologist brought her some bad news. Her husband and oldest daughter, Dorian Rivers, were there as well.

He informed them that Sandra's lump was malignant.

"My heart sank," she said. "I thought I wouldn't be there for my family and my kids."

Thinking of her previous bad luck, Sandra knew this was a death sentence.

The news hit the rest of her family just as hard.

When he heard the diagnosis, Mark felt pity for his family.

"I know it was selfish, but it wasn't fair," he said.

For Dorian, it took a bit longer to really sink in.

"It hit me later," the 22-year-old said. "Then I got angry. I remembered all my mom had been through and how she had struggled her whole life. She found Mark and she was finally happy. She had nice things, and she was doing things she'd never done before."

"It was like she got dealt the joker card. I didn't understand why. It made me angry."

Sandra's youngest daughter, Brandy, would hear the news through a reluctant phone call. She was attending cheerleading camp in Tuscaloosa, Ala., when Sandra called her cell phone.

Although Sandra planned to tell her 19-year-old daughter about the cancer when she returned home, Brandy could sense a problem.

"I could tell something was wrong but Mom said everything was OK," she said. "Mom's a bad liar."

Sandra finally broke down. "I had to pull the car over and take a deep breath," Brandy said. "I didn't know what to think."

The day after she got home from her surgery, Sandra sat in the living room of her Diamondhead home with Mark and cried. "I cried for two hours straight," she said. "Mark told me to let it all out."

The final results revealed that Sandra had ductal carcinoma, and it was infiltrating.

She was given three options to remove the cancer. She could have a further lumpectomy and remove more tissue from her left breast. She could have a left mastectomy and take out her left lymph nodes with a combination of chemotherapy and radiation. Or, she could have a radical mastectomy and have her left lymph nodes taken out.

Her doctor recommended the third option — to remove both breasts.

"I talked with Mark, and we decided to go with the third option because of my past with fibrositic disease and the lumps," she said. "I was tired of having surgeries. I just wanted to get it over with and not worry about the chance of it reoccurring again."

On Aug. 27, she had a radical mastectomy and had her left lymph nodes taken out. She also underwent a total rebuild of her chest. Both surgeries, totaling about 13 hours, were conducted at Hancock Medical Center.

Sandra decided against implants. Instead, fatty tissue from her stomach was used to make new breasts. She will return for minor surgeries later, including nipple reconstruction and cosmetic tattooing.

On Oct. 17, she began light chemotherapy in Gulfport. Sandra said the treatment is considered low dose and she would probably not lose her hair or get very sick.

"If I do lose my hair, I am sure that I will be depressed and little upset, but at least I'm alive," she said. "It's only hair after all, and (it) will grow back. I have had (in the last three years) a total hysterectomy, a double breast biopsy and a mastectomy with a rebuild. So, losing my hair would seem small in comparison, and I would deal with it day by day."

As Sandra awaits the final stages of her treatment, she and her family remain cautious, but they also maintain a sense of relief that much of the ordeal is over.

"I'm kind of relieved," Brandy said. "She's past the stepping stone to where we know she'll be OK. She's a fighter."

Although this experience has not been a welcome one, it has brought a close family closer.

"(Dorian and Brandy) now ask Mark for advice and lean on him just as much if not more than I did through this ordeal," Sandra said. "I know they were deathly afraid of losing the one constant that had been in their lives."

For Sandra, the experience has given her a new thirst for life.

"The disease has made me really look at life differently now," she said. "I want to live each day to the fullest and make sure that I appreciate my family and friends, because life is too short as it is. I want to live a full and complete life."

"The disease has made me really look at life differently now. I want to live each day to the fullest and make sure that I appreciate my family and friends, because life is too short as it is. I want to live a full and complete life."

Views

are just as many who read only occasionally. And after these, there are many, many more that don't read; people who don't even have a book or any reading material in their homes. Are these people different or are they just not given the opportunity to discover the joy of reading?

I think it is a little of both. I have two grandchildren, sisters. One reads, or better said, she devours books. She's omnivorous in her choices, picking one up as fast as she puts one down. If you see her, you will see a book nearby. She has always been so, since she was very young. Her sister? I don't believe I've ever seen her even open a book. Yet they are both active and intelligent people and I love them both. So, there are people who like books and others that live their lives just as happily without books.

Still sometimes, I wonder about accessibility, about having a library nearby such as we have. To explain what I mean, let me tell a story of what happened to me recently.

Stella and I were passing through a small nearby town when I remembered being told of a small bookstore in the town.

When we drove to where I thought the store was located, all I saw was a realty office. Next to the realty, was a rather nice looking gift shop and, leaving Stella in the car, I got out to ask directions.

The bell over the door tinkled when I went in. I looked around. It was an agreeable place with a number of very pleasant things.

One of the three women inside smiled and came forward, asking if she could help me. I asked about the bookstore.

"A bookstore!" She looked surprised, almost baffled. "No, I don't know of any bookstore in town. Do you know of any, Mary?" Mary coming forward, looked equally surprised and shook her head. The other woman, actually a late teen, shook her head as well.

"What kind of a book are you looking for?", the first woman asked. "We have some books on those two shelves over there." She pointed to a bookcase that was mostly filled with small porcelain bric-a-brac. The two shelves with the books held twenty, maybe thirty, used books, several were paperbacks.

"My husband got all those books awhile back from somewhere, I have no idea why. They have been there for quite some time. We would be glad to sell you any of them very reasonably."

I smiled and, as I shook my head and thanked her, the other women joined in. "You know we have a Wal Mart in town now. They have books. You could try there."

The teenager standing behind her, nodded agreeably, "I've seen them. They're where the gift cards are, behind the candies. You can't miss them. They have a whole rack of them."

I smiled and, murmuring my thanks, began to make my way back to the door. The three stood there puzzled by my question and seemingly unhappy they hadn't been able to help me.

"We are sorry. People just don't read here, what with television and all." The bell tinkled as I opened the door and, smiling at the three women I left, closing the door softly behind me.

When I got back in the car, Stella looked at me and asked what was wrong.

"Nothing really." I looked at her and the bright sunlight shinning on the street and the buildings around the car. I turned the key and started the engine. "But somehow, I feel I've just paid a visit to the planet Mongo."

- redness or scaliness of the nipple or breast skin
- a nipple discharge other than milk

Prevention is the best way to reduce the risk of breast cancer. Women and men should take proactive measures to live free of the disease. Dr. Paz suggests the following:

- eat a balanced diet, high in fruits and vegetables and low in fat
- watch your weight, and exercise daily

- limit alcohol consumption and avoid smoking
- know the risk factors and be aware of changes in your body
- see a physician for regular exams and conduct appropriate self-exams

The yearbooks will be placed in the PRCC museum, which is located on the Poplarville campus. PRCC's museum, on the Poplarville campus, has undergone an expansion which has doubled the display square footage. The museum, started two years ago, has seen an incredible growth with alumni contributing memorabilia from their college years at PRC.

Court seeks comments on advertising rule changes

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Supreme Court seeks public comments on proposed changes to rules governing lawyer advertising.

Comments should be submitted in writing to the Clerk of the Supreme Court, Gartin Justice Building, P.O. Box 249, Jackson, MS 39205. The deadline is Oct. 31.

Changes adopted May 29 but suspended pending further consideration include:

- a prohibition against advertisements which create an unjustified, false or misleading expectation about results the lawyer can achieve, which state or imply that the lawyer can achieve results by means that violate these rules or other law, or which state or imply that the lawyer is able to influence improperly or upon irrelevant grounds any tribunal, legislative body or public official;

- a requirement that advertisements and written communications shall disclose the geographic location by city or town of one or more offices of the lawyer or lawyers whose services are advertised or shall state that additional information about the lawyer or firm can be obtained by contacting the Mississippi Bar.

A comment in the draft states, "Rule 7.2(c) requires advertisements to contain a geographic office location because experience has shown, in the absence of such a regulation, members of the public have been misled into employing a lawyer in a distant city or another state, only to later learn that the lawyer is rarely available to the client."

The draft would require that a copy or recording of an advertisement be submitted to the Office of General Counsel of the Mississippi Bar. The new proposal lists 12 exemptions from the requirement. Telephone directory advertisements, business cards, letterhead and office signs are among the categories exempt.

The proposal states that a lawyer may request an advisory opinion from the Office of General Counsel concerning the compliance of a contemplated advertisement. When the Office of General Counsel determines that an advertisement or communication is not in compliance with the rules, the office may advise the lawyer that continued use of the material may result in professional discipline.

A copy of the entire draft proposal is available on the Supreme Court's web site, www.mssc.state.ms.us. Go the NEWS page.

Our Brain Revisited

"Well, I guess I'm having a senior moment."

"I can't always find the words I want. I catch myself fumbling for words. It makes me nervous and anxious."

"Sometimes I just draw a blank. I can't remember what I was about to say or do."

"Let me interrupt you and say this before I forget."

The more years relatives and friends add on, the more frequently we hear these and an imaginative array of variations on the theme of fading memory. Part of this phenomenon has to do with a combination of age and mileage as we struggle to perform better than an aging computer or tape recorder.

Madeline, a longtime friend, struck a responsive chord recently when she faltered momentarily in conversation, attempting to reach back for a thought and phrase which were getting away from her. Rather than anxiety, she expressed her resignation to the inevitable encroachment of time and wear.

"Have no fear," I assured her. "After we reach the age of 30, we lose 100,000 brain cells each day. And, of course, they cannot be regenerated as the other cells of our body do."

Shortly after our conversation, I decided it was time to revisit the sacred, innermost recesses of our alert, marvelous brain. Although I observed that the math totaled our loss of a tad more than 36 million brain cells a year, I neglected to remind Madeline that our brain contains some 100 trillion cells.

To say the least, we have an awesome number of cells in our brain. So, in relative terms, even 36 million is not a lot. Notwithstanding, we get a little uneasy when we multiply that 36 million by the number of years we have compiled since we turned 30.

Not to worry. After all, health scientists assure us that we use no more than 10 to 15 percent of our brain. Presumably, that means parts of our brain remain dormant until we forcibly fire them into action. It also implies that we can activate at least some of our unused portion by stimulation.

Naturally, as we age, all of us are constantly observing ourselves with the utmost jealousy and focus, looking for telltale signs of slippage physically, in our motor skills and in our appearance, but especially in the nimbleness of our wit and the retentive qualities of our memory.

"Have I slipped yet?" is a perhaps unspoken, unarticulated, maybe even implicit or denied question which we put to ourselves whenever a word or term seems a bit slow in coming. If we are not alert, we can easily slip into a self-destructive attitude of creeping diffidence and self-doubt.

We get into the habit of scrutinizing both ourselves and others around us as we struggle to make sense of the inconveniences and the anxieties of growing old. Some people handle the aging process with extreme grace, some with refreshing humor, and some with varying degrees of difficulty.

Even as we monitor our daily transit into the twilight zone of life, we do our best to keep tabs on developments which impact us most. As they always say in sports and any competitive endeavor, do or acquire whatever it takes to give you an edge in your struggle with declining mental powers.

Take the aluminum thing, for instance. For more than three decades, I have been hearing about the threat aluminum poses to our brain. Although it is far less than the dangers posed by lead or mercury, the heaviest metals, the threat of aluminum, one of the lightest metals, appears to be real.

Health scientists have been telling us for almost forty years that oral exposure to aluminum in any form through food or drink seems to be a trigger for the onset and development of Alzheimer's disease. It took a little while, but I have been scrambling to avoid the use of aluminum.

For starters, I have quit baking in aluminum pans, using instead stainless steel or pyrex baking pans. It has been a bonus to discover that the pyrex and stainless steel pans do a more even baking job anyway.

Curiously, the very thought that this is forestalling Alzheimer's is never far from my mind.

Baking powder is another culprit in the fight against Alzheimer's, because it contains a compound of the dreaded aluminum. So for years I have been using that most versatile of all commodities, baking soda, as a replacement for baking powder. In any case, it works just as well.

By the same token, I have abandoned the use of aluminum foil in regard to anything pertaining to food or drink. Non-food use of it is irrelevant.

But I find it troubling that, despite the apparent threat to health, most folks go on blithely using aluminum products for cooking and serving food.

Some of us have a partial family history to be concerned about, as the case of Bishop Harold Perry, my mother's nephew, who died from the ravages of Alzheimer's in his mid-seventies. My mother herself was eventually felled by the same disease, but at the anointed age of 95 years and seven months.

For us believers, memory loss challenges, gradual muscle weakening and inevitable mental wavering are all part of the grand plan put together by the grandest Architect, Bodybuilder and Mind Molder of them all. Believe it or not, this, too, is an enjoyable phase in the great journey we call life.

The "Word" for the Week
Better, Better, Better

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

In an interesting group discussion a chemist from the Jerusalem area who was a Moslem and converted to Christianity gave a phenomenal testimony.

"The standards of Christianity are much better than those of Islam," he said.

Moslems do not live the kind of life Christians do. The Christian life style is superior. Those committed to it live by a higher standard. Such a testimony from a person who is a Palestinian from the Middle East is more than interesting.

Christian people in America had a profound influence on his life. From personal experience, he found Jesus Christ to be superior. He found Jesus Christ to be superior to Mohammed.

This is the whole teaching of the book of Hebrews in the Bible. This book begins by showing how Jesus Christ is better than the angels. Christ is better than Moses. He is better than Aaron, the first high priest of Israel. This means that the sacrifice of Christ was a better sacrifice.

"He has obtained a more excellent ministry, by as much as He also is the mediator of a better covenant, which has been enacted on better promises" (Hebrews 8:6).

In turn, this means Christ offers a better hope. It is the hope of eternal life. When Christ died on the cross, He paid the penalty due to people like you and me for their sins. That this payment for sins is acceptable to God the Father was proved.

Jesus Christ was declared with power to be the Son of God through the resurrection from the dead" (Romans 1:4).

Because Jesus Christ is better in every way, He is bold to declare, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father, but through Me" (John 14:6).

Faith in the sacrifice and resurrection of Jesus Christ is the only way to the better hope provided by Christ.

Scripture Says . . .

By Ed Young

The Holy Spirit

What purpose does the Holy Spirit play in these God rejecting days?

The gospel of John tells us in his writings: Jesus says nevertheless, I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the Holy Spirit will not come unto you, but if I depart, I will send Him unto you. And when He is come, He will reprove the world of sin, and righteousness, and of judgment; of sin, because they believe not on me.

Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more.

Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged. John 16:7-11.

The Holy Spirit will seek out men and women, and have them search their hearts, to realize their spiritual condition. He will encourage people to give their lives to Christ. "He is no respecter of person." Unfortunately many turn Him away; and live to regret it for an eternity.

The fact that the Lord Jesus is not walking the face of earth; yet, people for 2,000 years have been getting to know God. Because the Holy Spirit was sent into world to show the real meaning of righteousness. "Which is the person of Jesus Christ."

The Holy Spirit has judged Satan and he is found guilty. Someday he will be cast into the Lake of Fire that never burns out.

Please don't turn away the Holy Spirit when He comes to you. He will ask you to receive Jesus as your savior?

What will you say to him? What will be your answer?

Domestic Violence Awareness month

THE SEA COAST ECHO

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month! Across the state and the country, battered women advocates are joining with government officials, law enforcement, corporations, health care providers and others to bring awareness to the serious effects domestic violence has on society. This year we are working extra hard to educate young people to recognize violence and not accept violence in their lives. The Center for Nonviolence offers programs to schools such as Dating Violence Prevention, Sexual Harassment, Respect, Elementary School Presentations, and Hands are Not for Hurting. If you would like to schedule an interview, obtain additional information about these programs and information on Domestic Violence Awareness Month, or to find out how to assist the Center for Nonviolence in supporting domestic violence victims, please contact me at 228-435-1968, 228-800-1396 or 228-436-3809.

Poll Finds Domestic Violence is Women's Main Concern

Ninety-two percent of American women rank domestic and sexual violence as one of their top priorities. One out of every three women experiences at least one physical assault by a partner during adulthood, according to a 1996 study by the American Psychological Association. The full extent of such victimization is not known, however, it is estimated that only one in seven domestic assaults come to the attention of the police. So perhaps it is not surprising that the overwhelming majority of women polled in a new survey by the Center for the Advancement of Women indicated that domestic violence and sexual assault are their main concerns. The survey, entitled "Progress and Perils: New Agenda for Women," is based on two national telephone polls of 3,329 women aged 18 and older.

Julye Fulcher, Public Policy Director for the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence (NCADV), is not surprised that domestic violence is emerging as such an important issue for women today. "Domestic violence is more prevalent than people realize and this concern needs to be recognized on a national level. Politicians should take note, seeing that at least 50% of the electorate deeply cares about this issue." Julye Fulcher works in NCADV's Public Policy office in Washington D.C. educating the general public about the plight of domestic violence in America, as well as testifying before Congress about legislation and appropriations on behalf of victims around the country. One of NCADV's recent concerns has been advocating for the full funding of the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) and its reauthorization in 2004, which has positively impacted the lives of hundreds of thousands of battered women and their children.

With National Domestic Violence Awareness month in October and the upcoming presidential primaries, the NCADV hopes that the results of this poll are an indication of the increased awareness and involvement of women and men in the movement to eradicate domestic violence.

NCADV is a nationwide network of approximately 2,000 domestic violence shelters, programs, and individual members working on behalf of battered women and their children. It serves as a national information and referral center for the general public, media, battered women and their children, allied and member agencies, Congress and the Administration, as well as a driving force to impact public policy and legislation for battered women and their children.

BWMS students make state honor choir

By Martha Eubanks
On October 4, 2003, three 6th Bay-Waveland Middle School graders auditioned for the Mississippi All State Honor Choir. Brittney Anderson, Ashleigh Torres, and Allison Calhoun each had to sing individually in front of three judges, in Gautier, to compete for a coveted spot in this choir. These auditions are open to Mississippi 5th and 6th graders. Approximately 1,000 students, statewide, auditioned for this choir. Out of those 1,000 students, only approximately 150 students will be chosen. Results of the audition will be revealed in November. The Mississippi All State Honor Choir will perform in Jackson, in February, 2004. The Bay-Waveland Middle School music teacher who prepared these students is Sharon Cole.

Beau Rivage sizzles with return of 'Burn'

'Burn the Floor' is on stage at the Beau Rivage Theatre now through Nov. 29.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Beau Rivage announces the return of "Burn the Floor," the highly acclaimed dance production show taking center stage, now through Nov. 29, in the 1,550-seat Beau Rivage Theatre.

Originating in Australia, "Burn the Floor" is an international high-energy dance show featuring 24 championship dancers from 11 countries. "Burn the Floor" transcends time, style, mood and genres. This unique theatrical performance is a fusion of the elegant sophistication of traditional dancing with the technology, creativity and sweaty sensuality of rock and roll.

Inspiration struck producer Harley Medcalf while attending Elton John's 50th birthday celebration. During the party, a group of internationally renowned ballroom dancers dazzled guests with an innovative, high-energy dance performance. Through his vision and creativity a new dance form emerged that is both unique and timeless. "Burn the Floor" expresses emotions - the interplay and chemistry between a man and woman, the sheer joy of music and the excitement of dance.

It is a journey for the senses - a fiery feast of movement, a sizzling montage of sound and a luminous display of stage and lighting.

"Burn the Floor" is a very straight-forward show with great vitality," said Medcalf. "It is about dancing and rediscovering touching-partner dancing. It's a celebration of a lot of dance styles, the full range of dance and the human emotion expressed through dance."

The multimillion dollar show how features a young cast, most of whom have dedicated their lives to dancing. "Burn the Floor" guests will be enthralled as they witness an evolution of traditional dance styles - waltz, samba, tango, cha cha - transformed into a blistering display of originality that jolts the world of ballroom dancing into the new millennium.

"Burn the Floor" runs in the Beau Rivage Theatre through Nov. 29. Tickets are $19.95 and $24.95 plus tax and service fee. Call 228-386-7777 or 888-566-7469 for show times and reservations. "Burn the Floor" room packages are available starting at $55 per person, based on double occupancy.

For more information, contact Beau Rivage Room Reservations at (888) 567-6667 or visit Beau Rivage's website at www.beaurivage.com.

Gladys Knight at Bay Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Grammy-award winning Motown legend Gladys Knight is set to perform at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday and Saturday, November 14th and 15th at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $29.95, $34.95 & $39.95 through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster Outlet.

The great ones endure, and Gladys Knight has long been one of the greatest. Very few singers over the last fifty years have matched her unassailable artistry.

At the age of four, she began singing as a guest soloist in church. At age seven she won the Grand Prize on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour, and the following year, she, along with her brother Bubba, her sister Brenda, and her cousins William and Elinor Guest, formed The Pips.

In 1959, Brenda and Elinor left the group, replaced by cousin Edward Patten and friend Langston George. The group was renamed Gladys Knight and the Pips, and following Langston's departure in 1962, the classic line-up was in place.

With Gladys singing lead and the Pips providing lush harmonies and graceful choreography, the group went on to achieve icon status, having recorded some of the most memorable songs of the 60's, 70's, and 80's.

Their hits include: "I Heard It Through The Grapevine," "If I Were Your Woman," "Neither One of Us (Wants To Be The First To Say Goodbye)," "I've Got To Use My Imagination," "Best Thing That Ever Happened to Me," and the #1 smash "Midnight Train to Georgia."

Gladys enjoyed another #1 hit in 1985 when she teamed with Stevie Wonder, Elton John, and Dionne Warwick on "That's What Friends Are For."

All told, Gladys Knight has recorded over 36 albums over the years, including four solo albums during the past decade.

Says the singer of her career today, "I love this industry because it's ever-changing."

"Music speaks to people's spirits; wherever the social consciousness is, that's where music is going to be. Doing as much as I do satisfies my creative spirit, because I do enjoy wearing a lot of hats: I've been at the board for a long time, producing - many people don't know that, but I've always had a direct hand in the production of all of my projects."

Knight now shares her musical wisdom on the Fox television hit "American Juniors" giving constructive criticism to young aspiring singers.

Don't miss Gladys Knight Friday and Saturday November 14th and 15th at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend.

Marissa Jaret Winokur

Checking in With Marissa Jaret Winokur

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

Marissa Jaret Winokur's parents knew she would someday be an acclaimed actress. The Tony winner, who stars in ABC Family Channel's "Beautiful Girl" Sunday, Oct. 19, says she was dramatic even as a toddler.

"I broke my leg ice-skating at 2," she says, laughing at her parents' reactions. "And they didn't believe me for a week because I had already cried wolf so much - until my dad saw me crawling into the bathroom in the middle of the night."

Winokur, 30, always believed she belonged on stage. She proved that to cheering audiences by starring in Broadway's smash musical "Hair-spray," for which she won the Tony last June.

The morning after her run as Tracy Turnblad ended, she hopped a plane for Canada to film "Beautiful Girl." In this movie, she plays a woman about to be married. The couple does not have money for a honeymoon, and she hears about a beauty pageant where the prize is a trip to Hawaii.

Naturally, she enters the contest, which is precisely what Winokur really would do.

"I am not a plus-sized actress," she says. "I am barely an 11-12. The women in the Miss America Pageant represent one percent of American women. I am what American women look like, what everyday people look like."

Winokur has a positive attitude about her body, self-image and abilities. She rejects scripts that portray the chubby girl as pathetic. "If I was watching that at 15, well, where would I stand?" she says, referring to her influence as a rounder actress who has made it. "Yes, I am a curvy actress, but who cares? I am doing romantic comedies where I am the romantic lead."

Birthdate: Feb. 2, 1973.
Hometown: Bedford, N.Y.
Significant other: Judah Miller, a writer for television.

Claim to fame: Tracy Turnblad in "Hairspray."

What's next: In negotiations with ABC for her own sitcom for fall 2004; working on "Once Upon a Mattress" with Carol Burnett.

Films include: "Never Been Kissed"; "American Beauty"; "On Edge"; "Now You Know"; "I Remember."

Stage: "Grease!"
Television: "Dharma & Greg"; "Moesha"; "Just Shoot Me"; "Boston Public."

Guilty TV pleasure: "All the reality TV," she says. "I watch every single one of them. I am the bad actress who completely supports reality TV. I Tivo them all."

Featured Fox's 'Joe Millionaire' offers love instead of money - again

By Jay Bobbin

Who, besides Evan Marriott, kept the secret of "Joe Millionaire" from those aspiring to be his mate?

The butler did it.
And loyal servant Paul Hogan intends to do it again as the second season of the unscripted series, titled "The Next Joe Millionaire: An International Affair," begins Monday, Oct. 20, on Fox.

The network has kept most details under wraps, except to hint that the new round - taped in Italy - is "An International Affair," since the women who vie for the heart of "Joe" this time are from countries other than the United States.

They'd have to be to not know the twist to the first "Joe Millionaire." Marriott wasn't really wealthy, though he and finalist Zora Andrich got to share $1 million at the end of the season. (That's about all they ended up sharing, as they reportedly went their separate ways after production ended.)

The financial situation of the new "Joe" seems the same, though the women are led to believe that rodeo cowboy David has inherited $80 million. Hogan's lips again will be sealed, at least where the female contestants are concerned.

The manservant behind the "Millionaire" is an Australia native who was recommended to the producers by the International Guild of Butlers. Originally meant to be seen only peripherally, Hogan admits the show "has changed my life. If I go anywhere, whether be it New York or Las Vegas or England, people stop me in the street. They get quite excited when they see me. I think it's terrific, because I enjoy people. Maybe it takes their minds off things that have been bothering them."

Fox bares some 'Skin' on Monday nights

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

It's a typical corporate headquarters, with glass-walled offices and sleek modern furniture, but one look at the curvy lady with the bullwhip and you know you're not at General Motors. Then there are all the police officers carting out boxes of financial records.

Welcome to the set of "Skin," premiering Monday, Oct. 20, on Fox, a glossy, high-concept world where lust, love and the law converge.

The latest entry from film and TV producer Jerry Bruckheimer ("CSI: Crime Scene Investigation," "CSI: Miami," "Cold Case"), "Skin" follows the clash of two powerful Los Angeles men, made more personal and intense by their children's forbidden romance.

Ron Silver stars as Larry Goldman, chairman and CEO of Golden Intl., a top producer of high-quality adult entertainment. All his riches, though, have not bought him respectability in Bel-Air, a sting felt by his wife, Barbara (Pamela Gidley), his 16-year-old daughter, Jewel (Olivia Wilde, 19), and his 13-year-old son, Jake (Evan Paley).

In true "Romeo and Juliet" fashion, sheltered, good-girl Jewel meets handsome, 17-year-old Adam Roam (D.J. Cotrona, 22), the rebellious son of driven, Irish-Catholic District Attorney Thomas Roam (Kevin Anderson) and his wife, Laura (Rachel Ticotin), a powerful Latina judge.

Their blossoming romance touches off a powder keg of emotions on both sides - especially since Roam has made it his mission to bring Goldman down.

After child abductions are linked to kiddie porn distributed over the Internet, Roam finds a tenuous connection to Goldman's company. Despite an unsuccessful prosecution - in which he arrests

Goldman in his own home - Roam sees an uptick in the polls. The reappearance of a drug dealer (Clarence Williams III) for whom Goldman once laundered money gives Roam a second chance, with unexpected consequences for all.

Meanwhile, Adam and Jewel cling to each other, desperate to be loved in spite of their parents.

"It's a classic mythological theme," creator Jim Leonard says, "of choosing between your family and the person you love."

Of course, there's also the question of how much of love is Adam's need to punish his distant father, or Jewel's need to find something pure in her impure world.

"He truly does feel for this girl," Cotrona says, "but, honestly, there's got to be an element of that, that's how you are at that age. It's not necessarily to get back at anybody and or lash out, it just makes you believe that it's much more real."

"Girls are suckers for love," Wilde says, "especially 16-year-old girls. She has never trusted a man besides her father her whole life. This is the first person she's trusted, and she's invested everything in it."

Part of the genesis of "Skin" is the time that Leonard, like many modern parents, spends deleting sex-related junk e-mail. Once relegated to sleazy shops with blacked-out windows, porn is now a multibillion-dollar industry basking in the sun of California's San Fernando Valley.

"There are two things that crash together in my head," Leonard says. "Being a writer, I'm not particularly in favor of censorship, and yet there's a point where the other side of my brain goes, 'Wait a minute, it's a bit out of control.'"

Goldman bears a passing resemblance in some ways to Steve Hirsch, head of huge adult-film studio Vivid Entertainment, headquartered in Van Nuys, Calif., as is the fictional Golden Intl.

Far from hiding in the shadows, Vivid delivers its product to homes and major hotel chains via satellite and cable television, as well as with videos and DVDs. One of Vivid's earliest stars, Ginger Lynn, even appears on "Skin" in the recurring role of retired porn star Amber Senn, Goldman's first "Golden Girl."

Goldman's company appears to be modeled on Vivid, with its emphasis on high production values, safe sex, and good wages and benefits for its stars. This hasn't deterred the power-hungry Roam, who, for reasons of his own, is determined to destroy Goldman's apparently legal empire.

'L&O' star once played a mom on stage

Q ■ Many years ago I saw a play in New York called "Spitting Image," about a gay couple who panicked when one of them became pregnant. Didn't a very young Sam Waterston ("Law & Order") play the pregnant one? -Bob Palmer, Galeana, Ill.

A ■ Yes, Waterston was still a struggling actor in his late 20s when he played "the mother" in a 1968 off-Broadway production of British playwright Colin Spencer's work. Waterston really hit his stride in 1972, starring in a New York Shakespeare Festival staging of "Much Ado About Nothing," which subsequently aired on CBS to some 20 million viewers. That "Much Ado" has been released on VHS and DVD, by the way, as part of the stellar Broadway Theatre Archive video series I mentioned here several months ago.

Q ■ Will "The Restaurant" return this season, and is there such a restaurant as Rocco's in New York City? -Maurice Schwartz, New Port Richey, Fla.

A ■ Yes, such drama as there was in "The Restaurant" arose from the fact that this wasn't just a game, it was the launch of an actual New York restaurant with hundreds of thousands of dollars at stake. Now open, the Manhattan eatery Rocco's on 22nd is located at 12 East 22nd St.

While ratings for its summer run on NBC were lower than the network had hoped for, producers say they are negotiating for a second season of "The Restaurant," although no deal has been struck as of this writing.

Q ■ On a recent rerun of "The Gong Show," I caught what I could swear was Mare Winningham singing, but under a different name. Was it her? You previously reported that she is an avid musician and singer. -Mike via e-mail.

A ■ Yes, Mike, Winningham - who stars this season in CBS' new "The Brotherhood of Poland, New Hampshire" - made her TV debut as a teenager in the late 1970s on "The Gong Show," where she was introduced as "Sharon Shamus." She sang a Lennon-McCartney song and, for the record, didn't get gonged.

New 'Hollywood Wives' kiss (and do tell) in CBS movie

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

Some TV movies - usually those involving winsome animals - should be shared with pajama-clad children and a huge bowl of popcorn. Delightful as these moments are, there comes a time in every woman's life where she needs to tuck in the kids, uncork a bottle of Chardonnay, unwrap a box of chocolates and invite over girlfriends.

That's when it's time to watch a movie that is such a romp it seems like fantasy - at least to those who do their own dishes. Jackie Collins' "Hollywood Wives: The New Generation" Sunday, Oct. 19, on CBS fits the bill.

"It's a guilty pleasure and I think everybody should indulge in a guilty pleasure once in a while," says author Jackie Collins, an executive producer of the film. "People should have fun. We live in a world where the headlines are so depressing and people feel, 'When is the other shoe going to drop?' It is so good to lie back and watch a world of fun. And, what's wrong with watching beautiful people in great clothes?"

Based on the best seller, the movie follows Lissa Roman (Farrah Fawcett) in a life of excess and drama. As Lissa is laying down the soundtrack for her latest movie, her lowlife fourth husband, Gregg (Jeff Kaake), is cheating on her. Lissa first hires a private eye to trail Gregg, then to protect her because Gregg rapes and punches her.

Handsome and brave, private eye Michael Scorsinni (Jack Scalia) has no intention of falling for the internationally acclaimed celebrity touted as the world's most beautiful woman. At 56, Fawcett embodies the Hollywood superstar - blond curls cascade over an unlined face and revealing outfits show off a perfect body. The movie opens with a hair and makeup artist and her personal assistant fawning over her. Fawcett looks quite natural in this position.

"The character is an icon and Farrah is an icon," says Tom Patricia, an executive producer. "She brought so much to the role because she lived it."

Fawcett says some of it rings too true, such as when Lissa has to leave her mansion and stay in a swanky hotel to hide from Gregg. Fawcett once had to hide from a stalker.

Already shooting her next film in rural New Jersey, Fawcett spoke exclusively with Zap2it late one night. She has known and admired Collins for years. "She sent me this note and it said, 'You are Lissa Roman. Fly safely,'" Fawcett says of Collins. "I was going to see my mother, who had broken her hip, and she wrote this lovely note about that and I was reading this book. And, I got to my mom's home and there was this paperback."

She began reading it at her mother's home in Houston. "My mother thought I should play it because it was glamorous," Fawcett says. "She told me, 'People are so tired of you playing these roles where you don't look good.' Only like a mother could say."

In this case mother was right. This is a movie about glamorous women who dress up to meet for lunch - though it is unlikely they actually eat. Collins knows her subjects well, say other Hollywood denizens.

"Out of all the people who write about Hollywood, I think she really captures the sense and drama of Hollywood," Patricia says. "A lot of people don't understand it. But I have lived and worked here. Her characters are very real."

"She takes the situations and makes them a little more glamorous and a little more erotic and sexual," Fawcett says.

Lissa's best friends, Kyndra (Robin Givens), Taylor (Melissa Gilbert) and James (Peter Cockett) have their own crises, but only Taylor's is explained in the film. Taylor gave up acting when she married Larry Singer, Hollywood's most respected mogul. Now she wants to produce, write and star in her own movie and Larry won't help her. So she finds a young writer to help with the script, but he only helps between the sheets.

Meanwhile, as private eye Michael locks philandering Gregg out of Lissa's gated mansion, an embittered computer technician hatches a plot to kidnap Lissa's daughter, Nicci (Pascale Hutton).

All of this may sound a bit much, and it is in a two-hour movie. It would have been far better spread over two nights. The 534-page novel explains relationships that are glossed over in the film. Given Collins' devoted fans - she has sold more than 400 million books - it is a fair assumption that many viewers are her readers and will be able to fill in the holes. But those who did not read the book need to know that the computer guy has banded with a group of creepy losers to kidnap Nicci for a $5 million ransom.

At least the casting is on target. Hollywood types constantly ask Collins who specific characters are. "I just smile," she says, and listens to their theories. For instance, Lissa could be Cher or Madonna or J. Lo or, as she is, a grand compilation. "Look at J. Lo," Collins says. "I can't write those characters because they are too way over the top. The lifestyles of the rich and famous, they do live like that ... I actually tone my books down."

Farrah Fawcett stars as Lissa Roman in Jackie Collins' "Hollywood Wives: The New Generation" Sunday on CBS. "Go look at those clothes and go look at Hollywood," Fawcett says.

Scalia, another longtime Collins friend who worked with her on "Lady Boss," says his character "is dealing with love, sex, sex, sex, love, power, money, superstars." Scalia intuitively understands the former cop turned private eye. "There's over 100 years of NYPD in my family," he says.

Scalia is completely convincing as the protector, as is Fawcett as the diva who loves him, making this movie a perfect TV alternative to the World Series.

"I hope they have a good time," Scalia says of viewers. "It's not Shakespeare. No one ever said it would be. It is pure Jackie Collins at her best. Let your imagination go. Invite friends over and have laughs. And then go and buy the book and see what it's really about."

Annual Lifetime concert has Moore (Mandy, that is)

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Mandy Moore is getting to do two things she loves: singing and acting.

The young talent's new album, "Coverage," hits stores Tuesday, Oct. 21, and she's been working on several movies following her starring roles in "A Walk to Remember" and "How to Deal." On Thursday, Oct. 23, Moore joins other singers in serving up film music as she hosts "Women Rock! Songs From the Movies," the fourth annual edition of the Lifetime concert specials geared toward raising awareness of breast cancer.

Recorded in late September at the Kodak Theater in Hollywood, the two-hour show also features Dolly Parton, Bonnie Raitt, Anastacia (a breast-cancer survivor), and Alison Krauss & Union Station. Another participant, Kenny Loggins, marks the "Women Rock!" franchise's first headlining appearance by a male star.

Although she wasn't at the taping, Celine Dion contributes a performance. Segment presenters include Sharon Osbourne, Debbie Reynolds, Jessica Alba ("Dark Angel") and Lisa Rinna ("Days of Our Lives").

"I'm just excited to show up and be a part of this," Moore says, particularly since she has served as honorary chairperson of the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society. "My world doesn't often include running into the likes of Dolly Parton and Kenny Loggins, and being a fan of them both, I knew for sure that this would be a fun time. My first single from my new record ('Have a Little Faith in Me') is a cover of a John Hiatt song that was in a movie back in the early '90s ('Benny & Joon'), so I'm happy that can be scooted into the show. I haven't had much opportunity to perform it in front of people yet."

Indeed, Moore says, "There's nothing like being on stage. The rush of adrenalin, the automatic connection with people, the instant feedback ... it's simply like nothing else. It's fun to take a break and be creative in another way, but it's nice to step back into these shoes. I haven't really done anything music-related for the past two years, so this event comes at a time when I want to get my mind going on something else."

"Coverage" also offers Moore's versions of Joni Mitchell's "Help Me," Carly Simon's "Anticipation" and Todd Rundgren's "Can We Still Be Friends." Critics sometimes are unkind to artists who attempt material immortalized by others, but Moore has steered herself.

"I decided this concept was something I felt passionate enough about to go through with. It's music I didn't grow up listening to, but discovered over the past couple of years. I'm excited to introduce other people my age to it. I chose songs I love by singers I love, so being in the studio was like my own private karaoke session."

The girlfriend of tennis star Andy Roddick, who won the men's singles title at last month's U.S. Open, Moore plays a U.S. president's daughter in a yet-to-be-titled romantic-comedy movie due early next year. Shortly afterward, she'll be seen as a Baptist high-school student in the drama "Saved."

"It's just nice to keep doing things I love and making friends with new people," Moore says. "I spent the summer working in London and Venice and Prague, and it was amazing. I never thought that by the age of 19, I'd have the sorts of experiences I've had. I owe a lot to my parents, because I feel they've raised me and my brothers very well. We're very close, and they've kept my feet on the ground."

Singer-actress Mandy Moore is the host of "Women Rock! Songs From the Movies," the fourth of a series of annual Lifetime late specials aimed at raising the awareness of breast cancer. The star-studded concert was taped in September and airs Thursday.

Surprises could be in store at Breeders' Cup

By George Dickie
© Zap2it

Horse of the Year is all but decided. The Empire Maker-Funny Cide rivalry is history. And star power ... well, there isn't a lot.

So what is there to hold your interest at this year's Breeders' Cup World Thoroughbred Championships?

Plenty, argues Tom Hammond, who will be at Santa Anita Park in Arcadia, Calif., on Saturday, Oct. 25, when NBC covers Thoroughbred racing's biggest day, a slate of eight races that determine the best horses in categories such as the juvenile, filly, mile, sprint and distaff.

"It's a special day in horse racing," says Hammond, who has been on every Breeders' Cup telecast since its first in 1984. "Where the Triple Crown gets most of the attention from the non-racing public, the Breeders' Cup is like the championship day. I mean, it's the day when most of the championships are decided. It's a day unlike any other in the horse-racing world. It's like the Super Bowl or the World Series, all those things of horse racing."

"Sometimes the Super Bowl's a dud; sometimes the World Series isn't very exciting; sometimes the Final Four - on and on - are not that great. But the Breeders' Cup always delivers first-class sport, and it always comes up with some surprise."

This year, that could come in the form of an upset in the big event, the Classic, that could keep Mineshaft, a 4-year-old who has won seven of nine races in 2003, from being named Horse of the Year. "This is an unusual year in that unless there's some sort of radical development at the Breeders' Cup, it looks like Mineshaft ... pretty much has it wrapped up," Hammond says. "Something at the Breeders' Cup could change that, but right now, he is definitely the leader and there's some question whether or not he will run in the Breeders' Cup, unfortunately. So, if he should run and get beat and if someone else - probably Azeri, who is the defending Horse of the Year - is spectacular at the Breeders' Cup, something may change that. But it would take a radical development to keep Mineshaft from being Horse of the Year."

If Mineshaft, who will retire after this year, does run in the Classic, Hammond thinks that upset potential could come from Ten Most Wanted, the winner of the Aug. 23 Travers Stakes at Saratoga. "The 3-year-old Ten Most Wanted, who's sort of flowered after the Triple Crown, might be his biggest competitor," he says. "He won the Travers and the Super Derby after finishing second in the Belmont. So he's been coming on strong late in the year, and he has a chance - if he wins the Classic, he might get some consideration for the 3-year-old champion."

A prohibitive favorite on Saturday is Halfbridled, a 2-year-old slated to run in the Juvenile Filly. "She's just been spectacular in all her wins," Hammond says. "She just won the Oak Leaf Stakes at Santa Anita in her final prep (on Sept. 28), and her victories have all been so easy and by such large margins. She just has everyone talking about her potential and how great she could be. So it'll be interesting to see if she can come through in the biggest race in her career so far. So far, nobody's even been able to come close to her. She is a daughter of Unbridled. ... She's won all three of her races. She ran at Del Mar twice and won them both. And she just ran at Santa Anita ... and so will be back at Santa Anita. She's three-for-three and will probably be the biggest favorite of the day."

Unfortunately, the biggest horse-racing story of the year, the rivalry between Kentucky Derby and Preakness champion Funny Cide and Belmont Stakes winner Empire Maker, will not be revisited Saturday. A lingering hoof injury has forced Empire Maker into retirement, and ongoing health problems dating back to early August have put Funny Cide's status in doubt as well.

But no matter who runs, one thing is certain: It will be a good day to race in the perpetual warmth of Southern California - for most horses. "It's a little bit of a tough thing for the Europeans, who are coming from colder weather and having to adapt to the heat of Southern California," Hammond says. "It puts them at a disadvantage, unlike when they come to Belmont or Churchill Downs or one of the more northerly locations for the Breeders' Cup."

Tom Hammond

"NASCAR Winston Cup Subway 500" Sunday, Oct. 19 (NBC, 12:30 p.m. ET): The quirky confines of Martinsville Speedway is the hallmark of the Virginia track, and last October Kurt Busch became the latest driver to benefit. Despite spinning on lap 179 - in addition to starting 36th - Busch used perfect pit strategy and masterful maneuvering on the half-mile oval to climb among the leaders, and he eventually edged Johnny Benson for the win. In doing so, Busch became the 11th different winner in the past 11 Martinsville races.

"Kansas City Chiefs at Oakland Raiders" Monday, Oct. 20 (ABC, 9 a.m. ET): Are you ready to jump on the Kansas City Chiefs' bandwagon? There might not be much room now, since the pick of many to go to the Super Bowl began 4-0 by playing tough defense to support an already dynamic offense. K.C. averaged nearly 32 points in those four wins, led by running back Priest Holmes. He'll be a target tonight in Oakland, of both the Raiders defenders and the team's fans, who have the well-earned rep as the league's nastiest.

"Maryland at Georgia Tech" Thursday, Oct. 23 (ESPN, 7:30 p.m. ET): After a 1-2 start, Maryland has picked up its play to get back in the thick of the ACC race. The Terps began last season with the same record, but then won 10 of its last 11 games. Leading that charge was quarterback Scott McBrien, the 15th-ranked Division I-A passer a year ago, and he'll be at the controls tonight against conference rival Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets have a nifty QB of their own in Reggie Ball, the ACC Rookie of the Week twice so far this fall.

All My Children

When Derek arrested David for murder, Erica tried giving him an alibi by claiming that she and David spent the fateful night together making love. An angry Jack accused Erica of lying in order to protect David. Aidan believed that Kendall carried Michael's body out of the condo, but she told Aidan that she's protecting someone, then confessed that she loves him. Jamie picked up a beautiful girl named Babe at the beach party and lost his virginity to her. He was later stunned when Babe arrived at Adam's family dinner and J.R. introduced her as his wife. Carlos was hospitalized in critical condition when, after being threatened, he and Greenlee were hit by a car. Coming: Ryan's actions make Adam steam.

As the World Turns

Craig conspired with Dusty to make Aaron too busy to keep his date with Lucy, so when Lucy was crowned homecoming queen, she was distraught that Aaron was nowhere to be found. Molly was shaken when Marley visited and said that Molly can't have the twins for the holidays, prompting Molly not to tell Rosanna that something is fishy with the adoption. Will was crushed when Rose accidentally revealed that she and Paul are moving to Paris. Katie kept trying to tell Mike that she had hit him, but Mike kept insisting that Katie would never hurt him. Coming: Rosanna suspects a cover-up.

Bold and Beautiful

As Brooke mourned for Ridge, Stephanie showed compassion and comforted her. Brooke kept experiencing visions of Ridge as she visited places they had been. When Nick rescued Brooke from getting too close to the furnace at the foundry, their lips met accidentally. ## Soap Talk

Rumor of Hogestyn's career death untrue

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

"Days of Our Lives" fans need not fear for Drake Hogestyn (John Black).

The actor has not been fired from the show, as reported on the Internet. Hogestyn has a long-term contract with NBC's "Days," and doesn't have plans to go anywhere.

But, favorites James Reynolds (Abe Carver), Matthew Ashford (Jack Deveraux) and Peggy McCay (Caroline Brady) aren't so lucky. They have been let go from the show.

Head writer James E. Reilly, who recently returned to "Days," decided to focus his stories on fewer characters. Consequently, less actors were needed.

In other news: One of the most manipulative characters on daytime television is coming back. In November, Jane Elliot returns to ABC's "General Hospital" as the wicked Tracy Quartermaine.

Elliot created the role of the scheming daughter of Edward and Lila Quartermaine (John Ingle, Anna Lee) in 1978. The daytime Emmy winner left in 1980, returned from 1989-1993, and has made guest appearances through the years.

"I'm the luckiest person on Earth," Elliot says. "Where else but in daytime television can you create a role 25 years ago, be gone for a decade and come back to the loving arms of the people you left behind?"

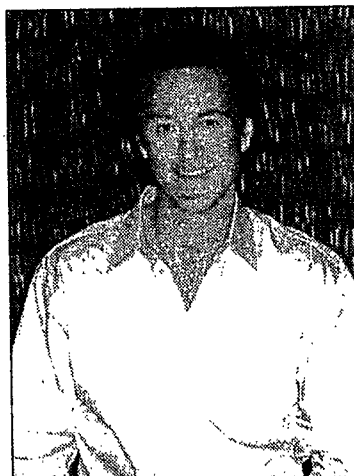

When viewers last saw Tracy, she had returned for a short trip to leave behind her teen son, and to drop the bomb on Skye Quartermaine (Robin Christopher) that she wasn't a Quartermaine after all. Elliot's first appearance on the show is Nov. 14.

Dear Candace: Can you please tell me what happened to Van and Bruce who were in the soap opera "Love of Life" years ago? It was back in the 1950s and I never saw either of them in anything else after that. -Frank via the Internet.

Dear Reader: Audrey Peters, who played Vanessa Dale from 1959-80 in "Love of Life," went on to act in "All My Children," "Loving" and "The Guiding Light."

Ron Tomme, who portrayed Bruce Sterling on the series during the same time, moved to "Ryan's Hope" in 1981. That was his last regular TV stint.

Wednesday Best Bets

6:30 p.m. on ESPN

College Football

Miami awaits next for Virginia Tech, but the Hokies will be wise not to look past tonight's game in Morgantown against West Virginia. The Mountaineers slow start robbed them of a chance to capitalize on last season's surprising nine-win campaign, but All-Big East linebacker Grant Wiley and his mates will be fired up for this one. Wiley is a master at forcing fumbles, so Tech's offensive spark plug, tailback Kevin Jones, best beware.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Smallville

A new episode that boasts a music score by the group R.E.M., "Slumber" finds Clark (Tom Welling) led by strange dreams to a long-comatose neighbor. Lana (Kristin Kreuk) places herself in peril by helping Clark try to determine why the girl hasn't woken up. Lionel (John Glover) wants Lex (Michael Rosenbaum) to undergo a battery of psychological tests.

7 p.m. on AMC

Movie: Earthquake

Los Angeles is hit by "the big one" in this 1974 disaster epic that earned an Oscar for its special effects. Charlton Heston heads the requisite all-star cast as an architect who debates leaving his shrewish wife (Ava Gardner), who is his boss's daughter, as trucks loaded with livestock start falling off freeways. Genevieve Bujold, Richard Roundtree and an unbilled Walter Matthau co-star.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Lawrence of Arabia: The Battle for the Arab World

Immortalized in director David Lean's Oscar-winning 1962 screen epic, the life of legendary British military man T.E. Lawrence also drives this new two-hour documentary, which makes extensive use of locations actually visited by Lawrence. Sympathetic to the Arabs while spying on them as a World War I intelligence officer, he ultimately became their leader as they battled for independence by trying to take over Damascus.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Jake 2.0

Jake's (Christopher Gorham) abilities get a big test when he proves to be the NSA agent capable of stopping a potential bomber in "Training Day." The explosive device is electromagnetic, meaning incalculable devastation if it goes off in Washington, D.C. Sarah (Marina Black) is involved in a probe that could reveal the nature of Jake's new powers.

8 p.m. and DSC
Unsolved History
It didn't pay to be a witch.

or merely to be suspected of being one, in Massachusetts in the late 17th century. The new episode "Salem Witch Trials" recalls the darkly historic period when neighbor suspected neighbor of practicing sorcery, leading to many imprisonments and deaths. Age didn't matter, since children were among those executed for their alleged skills in black magic.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Karen Sisco

Despite her objections, Karen (Carla Gugino) gets a partner in an esteemed marshal (guest star Gary Cole, "The West Wing") in the new episode "Justice." They seek three paroled ex-cons who have taken up crime again, and unbeknownst to Karen, the marshal has personal reasons for wanting to find the trio. Fredro Starr ("Moesha") also guest stars.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

The Brotherhood of Poland, New Hampshire

Driven by fury in looking for a missing teenager, Hank (Randy Quaid) creates his own version of the law as the search proceeds in the new episode "Little Girl Lost." Garrett (John Carroll Lynch) fears Hank will go too far in making rules for himself. The disappearance causes Dottie, Helen and Julie (Mare Winningham, Elizabeth McGovern, Ann Cusack) to worry about their own children.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

Relationships among relatives take lethal turns, much to the astonishment of police detectives Briscoe and Green (Jerry Orbach, Jesse L. Martin), in "Couples." One woman is investigated for mowing down her less-than-loyal husband with a car, while another woman's brothers become suspects in her murder.

Thursday Best Bets

7:32 p.m. on 6-NBC

Scrubs

After being under the thumbs of residents when they were interns, J.D., Turk and Elliot (Zach Braff, Donald Faison, Sarah Chalke) get the upper hand as they train interns themselves in the new episode "My White Whale." Sean (guest star Scott Foley) tries to help J.D. by sharing his experience as a trainer of sea mammals. Christopher Meloni ("Law & Order: Special Victims Unit") guest stars as a children's doctor.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Frontline

The 2001 death of a child, whose body was found in her foster mother's basement in Maine, is probed in "Failure to Protect: The Taking of Logan Marr." Among the unusual facts authorities had to sort through: the foster parent was a former social-services caseworker, the biological mother had never abused the child, whose removal from her home became suspect, and the girl was never perceived to be in danger in her new home.

8:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Coupling

As her Yom Kippur fasting ends, Susan (Rena Sofer, a rabbi's daughter) invites Steve (Jay Harrington) to dinner in the new episode "Present Tense." Steve doesn't know what the proper holiday customs are, and his hunt for advice leaves Sally (Sonya Walger) with the erroneous belief that it's the eve of Steve's birthday. In turn, Susan thinks she has to get Steve a gift suited to their current relationship.

8:59 p.m. on 6-NBC

ER

Dr. Weaver (Laura Innes) courts trouble by treating the syphilis-afflicted lover of Alderman Bright (Bruce Weitz, "Hill Street Blues") in "The Advocate." Dr. Romano (Paul McCrane) isn't happy about Dr. Weaver's strengthening ties to the politician. As Dr. Carter (Noah Wyle) ponders the status of his relationship with Abby (Maura Tierney), he treats a temperamental woman for poisoning.

Friday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Wanda at Large

Wanda's (Wanda Sykes) discomfort over her equally formidable mother's (guest star Jo Marie Payton, "Family Matters") impending visit only increases once she arrives in the new episode "Hurricane Hawkins." Mom takes a liking to Bradley (Phil Morris) — the worst thing she could do, from Wanda's standpoint.

Reba

Reba (Reba McEntire) and the other women decide to take up self-defense, resulting in a surprisingly physical showdown between Reba and Barbara Jean (Melissa Peterman), in the new episode "The Best Defense." Brock and Van (Christopher Rich, Steve Howey) install an alarm system at Reba's house, but it's short-circuited by the password Jake (Mitch Hollman) devises.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Boston Public

Comedian Dennis Miller begins a multi-episode guest run in the new episode "Chapter Seventy-One," introducing him as an investment banker who gets out of jail time by becoming a math teacher. His approach to his new job, and the world in general, earns him various reactions from other faculty members. Sherilyn Fenn ("Twin Peaks") also guest stars as a woman who gets to know Guber (Anthony Heald) after running into his car.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

JAG

Harm (David James Elliott) draws a night mission to Libya to retrieve an endangered CIA agent in the new episode "Touchdown." The operative wants to take his whole family with him, complicating the assignment. More problems arise when Libyan jets fire on Harm's plane, leaving it in rough shape as it heads for a landing on an aircraft carrier. Dan Lauria ("The Wonder Years") guest stars.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Miss Match

Lured to a party by bartender Victoria (Lake Bell), Kate (Alicia Silverstone) discovers that other female guests are prostitutes in the new episode "The Price of Love." One of them (guest star Christina Hendricks) seeks Kate's help in finding true romance, and the resulting candidates include a lawyer (guest star Jonathan Silverman) and Michael (David Conrad).

Jo Marie Payton, left,

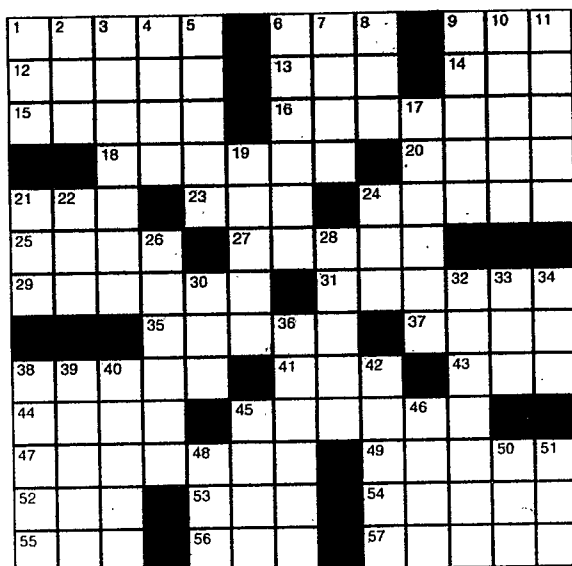

Wanda Sykes

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Sleeping Beauty

One of the most cherished treasures in the Disney vault, this classic, animated 1959 version of the fairy tale uses rich visuals to weave the story of Aurora (voice of Mary Costa), who falls prey to the sinister sorceress Maleficent (voice of Eleanor Audley). A curse cast via spinning wheel dooms Aurora to an eternal sleep — until her prince (voice of Bill Shirley) awakens her with "true love's kiss."

7 p.m. on AMC

Movie: Planet of the Apes

This 1968 sci-fi classic earned Academy Award nominations for its costumes and music and an honorary Oscar for the masterful makeup work. Charlton Heston, Roddy McDowall, Kim Hunter and James Whitmore star in the tale of astronauts who crash-land on a planet where apes rule and humans are treated like animals. The ending ranks as one of sci-fi cinema's most unforgettable.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: White Oleander

Janet Fitch's novel becomes a showcase for four fine actresses in this engrossing 2002 drama. Relative newcomer Alison Lohman ("Matchstick Men") admirably holds her own as a teenager sent to several foster homes after her mother (Michelle Pfeiffer) draws a life sentence for a crime of passion. The convict does all she can to influence her daughter against one maternal surrogate (Renee Zellweger).

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

L.A. Dragnet

A lively Hollywood party ends in death when the body of a groupie is discovered in the new episode "The Magic Bullet." One of the prime suspects investigated by Lt. Friday (Ed O'Neill) and his team is a veteran music producer (guest star Michael Massee) widely known for his roster of hit tunes — and also for his catalog of eccentricities.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

The District

Community vigilantes who exact their own brand of justice catch Mannion's (Craig T. Nelson) attention in the new episode "Blind Eye." While trying to find those responsible for assaulting others, he attempts to amend the existing system of law to everyone's satisfaction. Mannion also seeks the transplant patient who received Ella's heart. Vanessa Bell Calloway ("Equal Justice") and Tangi Miller ("Felicity") guest star.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"CHARLIE'S ANGELS: FULL THROTTLE": Cameron Diaz, Drew Barrymore and Lucy Liu return as the lissome sleuths in this rapid-fire-paced sequel to the first movie, which is based on the 1970s TV series. With a new Bosley (Bernie Mac) giving them orders to retrieve a list of federally protected witnesses, they battle a former "angel" (Demi Moore) gone bad. Crispin Glover ("Back to the Future") plays another enemy. DVD extras: audio commentary by screenwriters John August, Cormac Wibberley and Marianne Wibberley; "making-of" documentaries; Pink music video; on-screen trivia option; "Cameo-graphy" of the movie's celebrity cameos. ** (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"THE ADVENTURES OF INDIANA JONES": One of the movie series most desired by DVD fans finally arrives in that format, in a four-disc set of the box-office blockbusters produced by George Lucas and directed by Steven Spielberg. Harrison Ford stars as daring archaeologist Jones in "Raiders of the Lost Ark," "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" (co-starring Kate Capshaw) and "Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade" (with Sean Connery as Jones' father). The fourth disc offers many bonus features. DVD extras: theatrical trailers; "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes from all three movies; link to related Internet site. **** (PG: P, V)

"28 DAYS LATER": A lab accident unleashes a virus that means death for countless people in director Danny Boyle's ("Trainspotting") acclaimed thriller set in London. The illness causes those infected to become angry enough to kill, resulting in constant tension for those who have avoided the disease, but must remain on their toes against the afflicted. Brendan Gleeson ("Lake Placid") and Christopher Eccleston ("Shallow Grave") head the cast. DVD extras: audio commentary by Boyle and writer Alex Garland; "making-of" documentary; alternate endings; deleted scenes; photo gallery. *** (R: AS, N, P, V)

"IT RUNS IN THE FAMILY": Kirk and Michael Douglas play father and son in this comedy-drama about a clan with its fair share of problems. After the patriarch suffers a stroke, his son debates whether to keep practicing law for profit more than for purpose. Keeping the cast a family affair is Michael's son Cameron, and mother Diana Douglas (Kirk's ex-wife). Catherine Zeta-Jones apparently wasn't available, so the wife of Michael's character is portrayed by Bernadette Peters. DVD extras: audio commentary by Fred Schepisi; "making-of" documentary; Kirk Douglas documentary. ** (PG-13: AS, P)

"TAKEN": Steven Spielberg returned to "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" turf as executive producer of this alien-abduction miniseries, first shown last year on Sci-Fi Channel and now offered in a boxed six-DVD set. Three families have extraterrestrial encounters, from World War II to the present, while also dealing with earthly forces of good and evil. Stars include Julie Benz ("Angel"), Eric Close ("Without a Trace"), Catherine Dent ("The Shield"), Heather Donahue ("The Blair Witch Project") and Dakota Fanning ("Uptown Girls"). DVD extras: "making-of" documentaries. *** (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"BATTLESTAR GALACTICA: THE COMPLETE EPIC SERIES": After "Star Wars" revolutionized the movie industry, television followed a year later with this elaborately produced sci-fi show. The series is commemorated on its 25th anniversary in a boxed six-DVD set with a case resembling the helmet of an enemy Cylon. Commander Adama (Lorne Greene) leads the rag-tag group of space vessels that survived a war. Richard Hatch plays Adama's son, Captain Apollo; Dirk Benedict also stars as Lieutenant Starbuck. DVD extras: "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes; photo gallery. *** (Not rated: V)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"THE HULK" (Oct. 28): A lab mishap causes Bruce Banner's (Eric Bana) inner demons to be unleashed, in an extremely physical way, whenever he gets angry. (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"THE SOPRANOS: THE COMPLETE FOURTH SEASON" (Oct. 28): The most recent season that HBO ran of the underworld saga comes to home video. James Gandolfini stars. (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"WHALE RIDER" (Oct. 28): A young New Zealand woman (Keisha Castle-Grughe) is determined to carry on tribal traditions normally reserved for men. (PG-13: AS)

"EIGHT CRAZY NIGHTS" (Nov. 4): The Jewish holiday Hanukkah gets the Adam Sandler treatment in this animated musical-comedy about a party lover who seeks redemption. (PG-13: AS, P)

Mixing up home decor leads to new Cox, Arquette series

By Barb Oates
© Zap2it

"I love her on 'reveal' days," confesses David Arquette.

He is talking about his wife, Courteney Cox, and her incredible passion for changing people's lives through her design and remodeling expertise. Her love of home decorating forms the framework of the series "Mix It Up," premiering Wednesday, Oct. 22, on WE: Women's Entertainment. Cox created the show and serves as co-executive producer with her husband.

Perhaps the vision for their show, which blends two distinctly different living styles with the help of an interior designer, came when the couple began dating after meeting on the set of "Scream." Cox described Arquette's house as "unbelievable."

"I really can't believe, sometimes when I think about it, going over to (his) place. It was crazy," she says. "There were people on the couch that I don't even know if he knew. I mean, just like people hanging out, watching TV. It was just stickers and posters and things."

When the couple wed in 1999, Cox was faced with the reality that to create a home environment in which they both felt comfortable would require incorporating Arquette's eclectic taste, ranging from miniature pigs to large shoes to bobble-heads.

"He calls it 'collections.' I sometimes refer to it as 'junk.' It's just the difference in our opinions," Cox says. While she admits his tastes make their house more fun and colorful, she concedes, "I was in love, so I incorporated some things that my mother couldn't believe, like, a woman in bondage with a glass table on her back."

That item, a coffee table, was at least a collectible from the movie "A Clockwork Orange," but Cox's ability to combine her tastes with the unique ones of her husband is a prime example of just exactly what their show aims to do. "People come to us because they have a problem," Cox says. "They have a problem with their home, and they don't feel comfortable in it, and they don't feel represented. We try to fix it."

Making people happy about their surroundings - not redecorating for shock value or "reaction" shots - and making compromises to someone else's personal taste is a refreshing concept in the recent "Trading Spaces"-inspired home redecorating

TV show craze. Cox and Arquette are hoping this is something audiences can relate to and appreciate.

"I definitely have a kind of personality that (makes me) want to bring out the best in people," Cox says. "I don't know if it's a good thing or bad thing, but it's something I can't help. I want people to be happy, so I think that's one of the reasons why I wanted to do the show in the first place ... just to see somebody, even if it's just for the day. To see their life change for that moment when they walk into the room and are that happy. It really makes you cry. It does. I hope I don't lose this feeling. It's the most exciting thing waiting for the 'reveal.' I love it so much. Just to see people happy; that's why I'm doing the show. And I love design."

Cox is no novice to the design process. She has purchased and renovated seven homes in roughly 10 years and is more than comfortable with the thought of doing it again. Does she offer advice to her fellow celeb friends like Brad Pitt and Jennifer Aniston? The modest Cox says, "When I go to their house, I can't believe the ideas Brad has. ... I learn from seeing what he does."

Learning aside, the couple is completely "hands-on" with everything to do with the show from selecting the couples and designers, to coordinating the music, to doing the finishing touches.

"Every week, it's just so amazing to see how into it she is," Arquette says. "And how she's running around wiring things and hanging things up and touching up things with paint and moving things. She's so hands-on - wanting to help these people out."

And as surprising as it may seem, the couple is not afraid to pick up dirty laundry, polish tables or clean windows. "One day we literally cleaned up these people's rooms," Arquette says. "We went through sweaty clothes and put them in the hamper. We had friends who were visiting us on the set and they were like, 'Uh, what are you guys doing?' Although we weren't doing the bedroom - we were doing the living room - we wanted them to come home and feel some organization."

Arquette shrugs. He admits people are somewhat surprised to see just how involved off-camera they actually are, but says, "We're just us."

And that's just how the duo plans to mix things up.

Courteney Cox Arquette goes behind the camera as creator and co-executive producer of "Mix It Up," a home redecorating show premiering Wednesday on WE: Women's Entertainment.
